Building

Ready and

Deserted buildings await the exciting arrival of new students and the return of the old. Residents of Wilmore Hall will find it redecorated, and all of the students will welcome the new individual heating units in each dormitory. The Administration Building looks almost new after being sandblasted. Students this year will find an Indiana Central College, new in physical appearance but still old and familiar in spirit and tradition.

Student Organizations

Student Christian Association

Most of the year's social events are planned by the Student Christian Association. The SCA operates through six main committees: freshman orientation, religious life, social, banquet, Geneva stunts, and World University Service. New this year is a movie committee that organizes movies in the auditorium.

The Student Christian Association plans freshman orientation week and many all-school events, such as the tug-of-war, leap week activities, swimming and skating parties, and the formal banquets. Through religious literature, conferences, retreats, chapel programs, and Religious Emphasis Week, this organization fosters a spiritual atmosphere on the campus. Delegates from the Student Christian Association are sent to the annual YMCA conference at Geneva with proceeds from the all school variety show. In the spirit of service to others, the World University Service committee sponsors auctions for students abroad.

Plan Year's Activities

Student Council

The Student Council works behind the scenes to create more efficient cooperation between the students and the administration. It sponsors such events as homecoming, Brown County day, the formal reception, and a number of chapel programs. Furnishing the recreation room and the lounges have been projects of the council. Within the Student Council is the Student Court which consists of a chief justice and five justices. The purpose of the court is to deal with student disciplinary problems.

Campus Takes on

What is it really like on campus after a summer vacation? September 11th, the day most students arrived, looked like mass hysteria.

At first glance, one saw students and parents carrying into the dormitory all the essentials of a college student for the coming year. It was obvious that spacious cars are a necessity to traveling college students. The chatter and laughter of friendly voices rang over the campus as old friendships were renewed.

During these first days the campus is surveyed from the eyes of inexperienced freshmen and from the eyes of well-worn seniors, and it is here that goals and ambitions are fired anew.

A car with a roomy trunk is essential to a college student.

The Cupboard is a favorite spot for informal conversations.

Chapel is an important part of the student's educational program.

Familiar Look

Dr. Deever, shown examining Larry Miller's throat, guards the students' health.

Lasting friendships are often formed at ICC.

Meet the Faculty

Indiana Central is proud of its personnel relationships between students, faculty, and administration. Through intellectual and cultural activities the students and faculty exchange ideas and ideals.

The formal reception, sponsored by the Student Council, provides a chance to establish new contacts and to renew the old. A receiving line begins the reception, and later entertainment is provided. This year's entertainment included selections by the sophomore girls' trio, a violin duet, and vocal solos.

After the program the guests were served punch and cookies by the Vesta Club.

Homecoming

Central's 54th annual homecoming was not dampened in spirit by morning showers, but blossomed into one of the most successful events of the year. A rousing pep rally around a bonfire on the evening before the big game set off a weekend of frolic and excitement.

A parade on Saturday morning, led by the lovely queen candidates and featuring floats built on themes from Fantasy Land, wound its way through the city and back to the football field, where the Greyhounds were preparing for a victory over the Spartans of Manchester College.

Wilma Wheatcraft leads students in cheers at the pep session on the eve of the event.

The crowd enjoyed watching, not only the victorious Greyhounds, but also the crowning of the queen, Pat Bymaster, and the presentation of her court, consisting of Janet Shafer, Wilma Wheatcraft, Jane McIntire, and Janis Beechman. Also of interest was the announcement of the prizes for the best floats. Lambda Chi Phalanx captured first prize, while the sophomores and juniors placed second and third, respectively. Dailey Hall won first place for dormitory decorations.

The day was climaxed by an evening's entertainment at the Indiana University Medical Center, which drew a perfect day to a fitting close.

Among the couples attending the entertainment was Lance Riggin and Ruth Anne Smith.

Indiana Central's football team played very spirited football throughout the season and finished the season with a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. The Greyhounds captured the Hoosier College Conference with a 4 and 1 record, the only loss being to an always tough Anderson squad.

Throughout the season, the Greyhounds played as a unit, but there were also some very fine individual efforts. Jim Ware and Bob Vuillemot were consistent ground gainers, while Carol Purichia led the Greyhounds through the air. Co-captains Jerry England and Leland Dilk led the impregnable offensive line charge. Willie Martin, the team's most valuable player, and Bill Bless were the core of a fine defensive unit. Hank Easter and John Koontz, all-conference interior linemen, led the defensive charge that kept the opponent's offensive threat jammed.

Winner Peter McArdee of the New York Athletic Club crosses finish line.

The nationally contested Indiana Central thirty kilometer road race was held on Saturday, December 12. Entrants came from Chicago, New York, Boston, and several other cities. The race, which is approximately eighteen miles, was won by Peter McArdee of the New York Athletic Club.

Indiana Central had two entries, Robert Hoban and Robert Williams. Both boys are freshmen.

The queen for the Road Race was Judy Toction, who was crowned by President Esch in pre-race ceremonies.

Winner receives trophy from queen Judy Toction.

Cross Country Team Rebuilds

The cross country was in a rebuilding year, due to the fact that only three lettermen returned from last year's conference champs.

Stanley Brewer, a junior, and Robert Hoban, a freshman, was one-two for Central throughout the season. Loren Thomas, the only senior on the squad, Marvin York, Philip Turley, James Treesch, and Robert Saul formed the nucleus of a fine team, which placed second in the Earlham Relays and third in the Hoosier College Conference.

Netters Gain Share of H. C. C. Title

The Indiana Central tennis team finished their season with a record of 4 wins and 1 loss, good for a first place tie in Hoosier College Conference play with Hanover and Manchester.

After rolling over Taylor in their first encounter, the Central squad squeaked out a 4 and 3 victory over highly rated Hanover. The joy was short-lived, however, as the Greyhounds lost to a fine Manchester team the following week. Three-time all conference netter, Jack Tindall, lost his only match of the season in this contest. It was only the second time in his college career that Jack had been stopped.

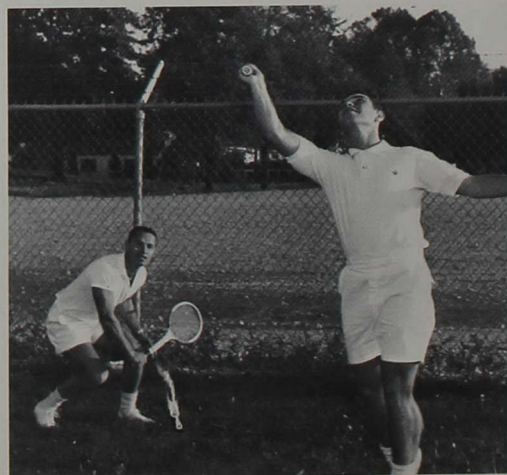

The Central squad bounced back, however, with victories over Anderson and Franklin. These victories, coupled with Hanover's victory over Manchester, gave Central their share of the HCC title.

Freshman Dan Woerner finished the 1960 season with a 5 and 0 record in singles competition. Jack Tindall and Ted Koch finished their seasons with 4 and 1 marks.

Jack Tindall, Jim Tindall, and Phil Reed are the graduating seniors from this years' squad.

I. C. C. Invades Brown County

On one bright day in October, students and faculty get together for a day of recreation and relaxation at Brown County State Park. Many take part in group games such as horseshoes, volley ball, and football; others hike, go horseback riding, collect bugs and leaves, or simply enjoy the out-of-doors.

On this particular October 11, a picnic dinner featuring barbecued chicken was served by the cafeteria staff. Beautiful sunshine, fair skies, and the turning leaves combined to make the day a perfect success.

The service was efficient under the direction of Mr. Kinnard.

Fall Banquet

Upon entering the dining room on the night of the "Star Spangled Spree," one could see the United States flag hanging above pictures of former United States presidents.

Delmar Merritt, master of ceremonies, presented the freshman girls' trio, consisting of Joyce Brittenham, Roberta Chaney, and Marcia White. Joan Delle Brown played a piano solo, and Joylyn Hague and Dale Rigg sang a duet reminiscent of courting days. The climax of the entertainment was Dave Rathbun and Phil Isgrigg wearing "Uncle Sam" hats and singing Yankee Doodle Dandy.

Meals Can Be Festive

Birthdays

Every student celebrates his birthday at least once a year at Indiana Central College. One evening meal of each month honors those who have birthdays in that month. The meal consists of special meat, usually sirloin steak, a special birthday cake with candles, and ice cream, besides the usual vegetables and salads. Those whose birthdays fall during the summer months choose a winter month as a substitute.

Centralites Cast Ballots

In the fall of every fourth year, Indiana Central students join the whole nation in a flurry of political activity. The three chapel sessions of the week preceding the election are devoted to a presentation of both major political parties, and rivalry grows as election day nears. On Friday in the mock election, each student may cast his ballot for President of the United States and for Governor of Indiana.

This year, the Republican Party was represented by Robert Fink, administrative assistant to Governor Handley; and the Democratic Party by Joseph Barr, Congressman from the eleventh district of Indiana. The bipartisan speaker was Dr. Lawrence Hosie.

The results of this years mock election were: Nixon, 396, Kennedy, 176; and Parker 355, Welsh 220.

Governor's assistant speaks for Republicans.

A vote is added for the party of her choice.

Religious Values Are Stressed

University Heights EUB Church provides a church away from home for the college students.

Students and faculty delve into religious and social problems in the Tea and Crumpet Hour.

Mary Kelley and Corinne Coble examine religious book display.

During this period of concentrated emphasis on religion, Indiana Central re-examines and reaffirms her long-held beliefs and seeks new depths of insight and faith.

The week is filled with morning prayer meetings, chapel talks, guided discussions at tea and crumpet hours, informal discussions, and personal counseling.

Leading these activities for Religious Emphasis Week of 1960 was Dr. Robert Pierce of Detroit, Michigan, whose sermons inspired much thought among students.

Highlights Winter Season

VARSITY BASKETBALL, ROW 1: Tom Moran, Norm Beasley, Fred Belser, Bob Blessing, Jack Tindall, Jerry Lewis, Frank Craig.

ROW 2: Fred Honnold, Mickie Shircliff, Emmett Herr, Charles Spurgeon, Bill Asdell, Harold Boyd, Bob Creighton.

Indiana Central enjoyed another prosperous basketball season with a veteran squad under the direction of Coach Nicoson.

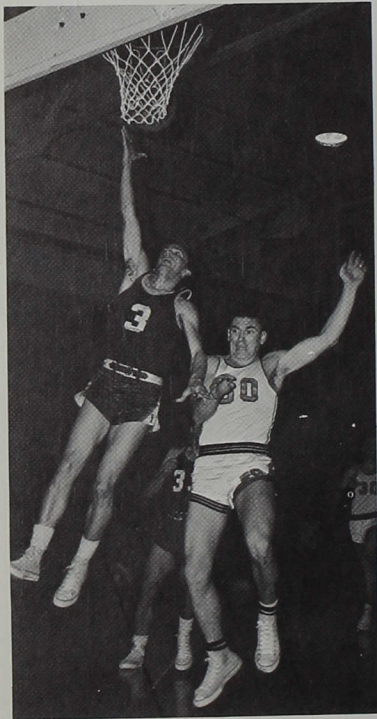

Mickie Shircliff, senior captain, was one of the key reasons for this fine season. Jack Tindall, another senior, also enjoyed a good season. Three junior lettermen, Harold Boyd, Jerry Lewis, and Charles Spurgeon, made up the remainder of the squad. Frank Craig, a freshman guard, helped take up the slack near the end of the season.

This was a well balanced scoring team as four members averaged in the double figures. This posed a definite threat to the teams which ICC faced throughout the season.

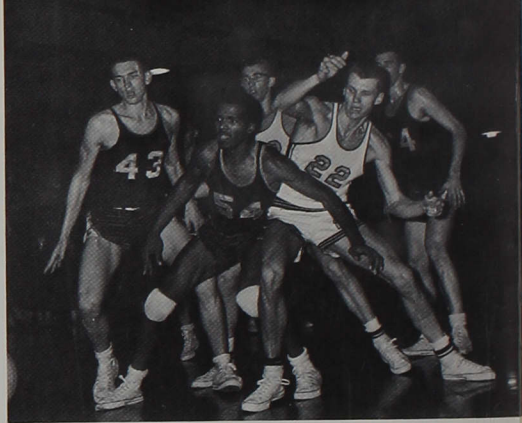

The Greyhounds, after getting a slow start, managed to finish with a 17-7 record and a second in the conference.

Indiana Central was fortunate to have a fine group of newcomers this season. This team was loaded with talent, as is shown in their fine season record of 16 wins and 1 loss.

This was a fine, balanced team, led by Tom Moran and Doug Purtee. Since everyone on the team was a scoring threat, Coach Bright sometimes platooned his team to keep a fresh supply of manpower on the floor at all times. Semester grades cut 3 members from the ranks of the team, but the remaining players molded into a unit and finished very capably.

Wrestlers

The defending Little State champion wrestlers were hard to beat again this season as they matched their strength and skill with many larger schools. Led by the defending Little State champion and present captain, Dan Welliever, the matmen compiled a respectable 8 and 1 record in dual meet competition and earned two third place spots in quadrangular meets.

With the hope that wrestling will soon become a conference sport, the team and many fans will anxiously be awaiting the action of another fine season next year.

Celebrating Christmas through fine arts was the music department with its presentation of Amahl and the Night Visitors, a Christmas opera.

Young David Stanton as Amahl and Madelyn Smith as his mother led the cast of college students. Other characters in the opera were three wise men, their servant, and a group of shepherds. The Indianapolis Civic Orchestra, directed by Victor B. Danek, accompanied the singers.

The opera portrayed the effect of the first Christmas on the lives of a poor crippled boy and his mother. The wonder and magic of the Christmas story seemed able to overcome all hardships.

Fine Arts Appreciated

The Artist Series has now become a permanent institution at Indiana Central. In the future it will continue to bring to Central students and to the public such fine artists as those on this year's schedule: the Beaux Art Trio, the Canadian Player, Agnes DeMille, the Robert Shaw Chorale, and Rey de la Torre.

Another event in the area of the arts is the annual Fine Arts Festival, which strives to promote interest in the arts and which displays student accomplishments. In the spring of 1960, the Festival consisted of an exhibit of student letterings, beginning drawings and crafts, and oil paintings; a program of chamber music; a choir and band concert; and, highlighting the Festival, presentation by the speech and dramatics department of Antigone.

Roger Williams and "The Quiet Men" visited the campus in the spring of 1960, sponsored by the sophomore class. Their display of humor and talent provided an entertaining and worthwhile experience.

Student Education Association

To acquaint members with the structure of professional organizations, to give members an opportunity to understand educational and professional problems, and to exchange ideas with those who have common interests are the goals of the Student Education Association.

Indiana Central students entering the teaching profession join the I. J. Good Chapter of the national Student Education Association. Through the nation-wide program students obtain opportunities to learn professional skills, to participate in work on community and professional problems, and to gain active membership on local, state, national and world levels.

Debate Club

The ability to collect and organize thoughts is the greatest benefit derived by students in the Debate Club. Through "organized argument" debaters participate in one type of inter-collegiate competition which is not limited by school enrollment.

All day debating tournaments in which Indiana Central participated were the Ball State Gavel Tournament, the Hoosier Conference Debate at Anderson, a tournament at Indiana University, and the EUB Tri-College Speech Conference in April.

English Club

Literature, a vital part of man's heritage, is the main subject of the English Club, which strives to promote and stimulate interest in this field. Campus Originals, including the best work of the students in English composition classes, is a publication of the English Club. Activities included the annual picnic at Miss Weaver's cabin, at which time, Dr. Sara Harvey spoke on her travels in Israel. The Christmas party was held at the home of Mrs. Fouts.

Through contact with experienced speakers, through films, and through enjoyable and educational trips, its members realize the necessity for efficient businessmen and women in the world today.

Philaethea

The purpose of the Philaethean Literary Society is to develop literary attainment, to provide leadership, to express originality in writing and speaking, and to establish a methodical manner of transacting business.

Activities of the year included a joint meeting with Theacallosia, decorating a car for the Homecoming parade, an open session with visitors welcomed, and formal initiations and installation.

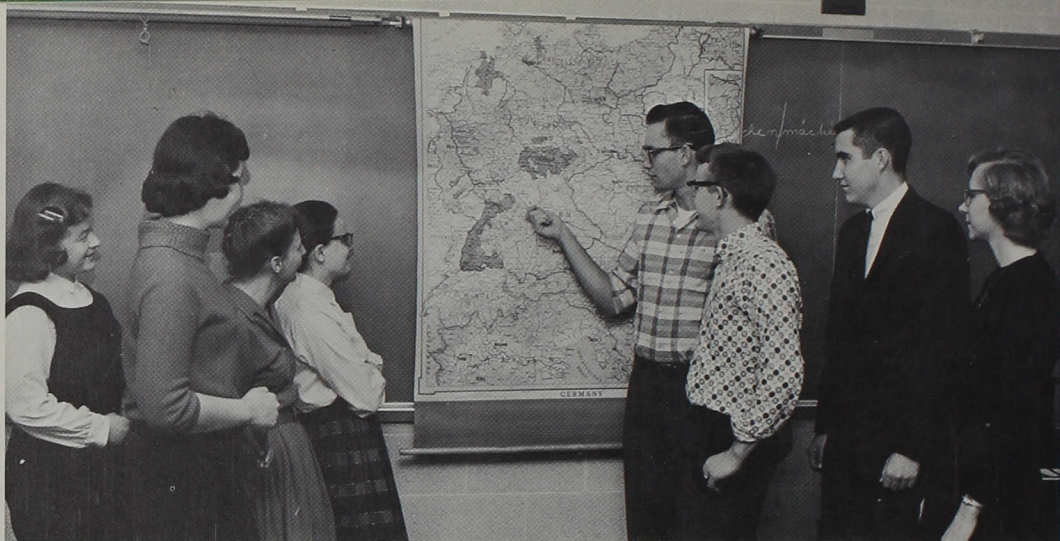

Theacallosia

The Theacallosia Literary Society strives to further individual abilities in public speaking, in following parliamentary procedure, in becoming acquainted with works of literature, and in creative writing, activities which are increasingly important in society.

Meetings are conducted according to parliamentary procedure and Roberts' Rules of Order. This involves impromptu and extemporaneous speaking plus preparation and giving of productions.

German Club

German Club is particularly designed for those students interested in the German language and culture. Membership is open to anyone who has had German, for sometimes German is spoken at the meetings.

In some meetings programs have been presented on the German government system and on German customs at Christmas time. The club planned to sponsor a German chapel speaker.

French Club

The French Club is organized to help all students who are interested in French either as a language or as a cultural and economic area of study.

The club consisted this year of about twenty members and met twice per month. It planned to sponsor a movie in French with English translations for all students.

One interesting project was the learning of Christmas carols in French for the group Christmas Party.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, made up of Spanish majors and minors, helps to better acquaint its participants with Spanish culture and ideas.

The group learns Christmas carols in Spanish for the holiday season. They plan several activities including movies in Spanish, Spanish dancers, a speaker from Spain or Mexico, and a club dinner at a Spanish restaurant. Through these experiences, members can begin to discover the spirit of the Spanish people.

Pan Linguists

The Pan Linguists is made up of students who are either studying a foreign language or have an interest in foreign languages. The Spanish, French, and German Clubs are branches of this larger group. The club tries to bring forth items of interest to all of the language groups.

The biggest project of the year was a Christmas party at which each branch group presented some entertainment in its own language.

International Relations

Better understanding of the world and its problems is the goal of the International Relations Club. Seeking to develop within its members a broader relationship between peoples of different nationalities, the club sponsors speakers from nearby areas and informal discussions on current world problems.

Every person interested in the vital subject of foreign relations and international problems is welcomed to membership.

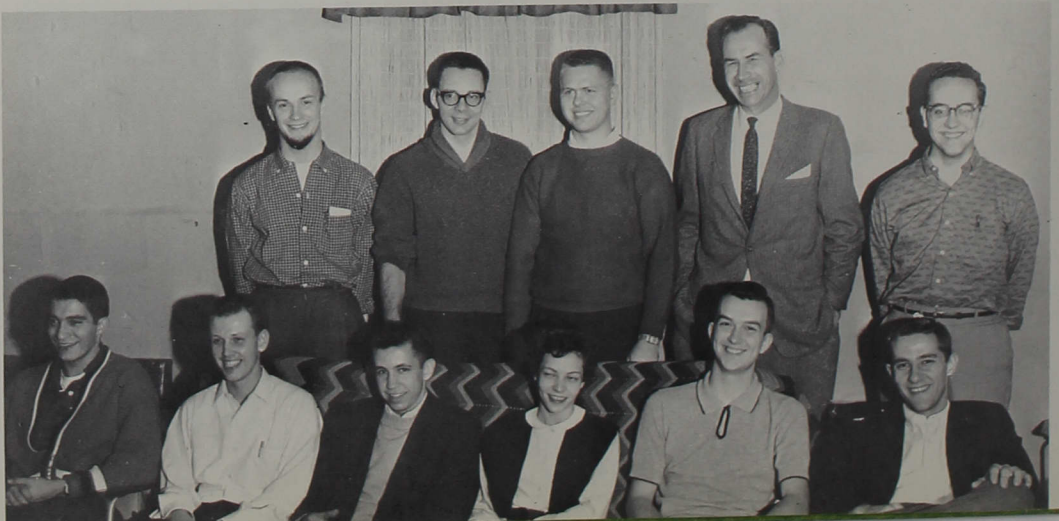

Philosophy Club

A spirit of informality and discussion rather than one of organization and activity characterizes the Philosophy Club. Its only officers are a small planning committee and a secretary.

Members of the Philosophy Club feel that they gain in more concrete formulation of concepts, and in a broadened outlook arising from an exchange of ideas. They have discussed topics such as determinism and philosophy of education.

Art Club

Through the Art Club, art majors and minors strive for a better understanding and appreciation of art. They also serve the school by making posters.

They have in the past made trips to numerous museums and art galleries in Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York City. In the summer of 1961, for a period of seven weeks, Professor Boyce and a group of students will tour Europe.

M.E.N.C.

The members of M.E.N.C. are automatically affiliated with the Music Educators' National Conference and may attend its meetings. This year several music students attended the Indianapolis conference.

Ushers for college musical programs came from M.E.N.C. At the Christmas party, new members were initiated by performing a number from their special interest fields in music.

Instrumental Groups Create

The band recruits all interested students. It has been set up to provide music at certain school functions as well as to aid the participating students in increasing their abilities in instrumental music. In addition to marching for all home football games and in several parades, the band went on tour in early February and presented other concerts during the spring.

The band is assisted in its half-time football shows by several baton-twirling majorettes and by a corps of girls called the Crimson Steppers. These girls perform group flag drills using red and white pom-poms.

The Chapel Choir presents music for the enjoyment and spiritual enlightenment of its listeners and participants. Under the direction of Alan F. Schirmer, the fifty-six member organization this year sang for Christmas the premier of a cantata, "And God Came," by Rene Frank, at the John Herron Art Institute in Indianapolis. The spring choir activities consisted of participation in activities on campus and a tour of schools and churches in northern Indiana and near Detroit, Michigan.

The Centralaires are a twelve-member vocal group which sings in mixed four-part harmony. This year it was called on to sing for dinners given by the Kiwanis Club at the Claypool Hotel, and by the Women's Press Club at the Washington Hotel in addition to participation in several school programs.

Two independent campus singing groups are the Coeds and the Boys' quartet. Three sophomore girls make up the Coeds. Their three-part harmony has entertained at freshman orientation, honors day, the formal reception, and class stunts. Off-campus, they have sung for a youth rally in Decatur, Illinois, and taken part in Chapel Door, a local television program. The boys' quartet is made up of sophomore boys, who sing mainly for enjoyment. They sang at several EUB conferences.

The student publication, the Reflector, really does reflect the spirit of Indiana Central and the attitudes and desires of her student body. Its articles present information concerning student activities, campus events, and student and public opinion on various subjects, and offer food for thought to its readers. The staff is open to all students who have a genuine interest in newspaper work and the determination to meet deadlines.

The faculty controls the final election to this organization.

PEMM

Cooperation with members of a team, development of team spirit, and improvement of sports skills, are the goals of PEMM, the organization of girls' physical education majors and minors.

These girls play such sports as volleyball, basketball, cageball, and badminton. They challenge similar groups in team sports. In this way, they further friendship between Indiana Central and her neighbors.

"C" and Booster Clubs

The "C" Association is a club for all athletes who have earned an award in some sport. At the present time there are about 50 active members in the club. The "C" club has many functions which include three banquets each year, selling concessions at sports events, and selecting the homecoming queen. This organization is advised by Mr. Nicoson.

The Booster Club promotes enthusiasm for varsity games and loyalty to the college. By selling concessions at athletic events, the club raises funds for sweater awards to senior varsity men.

Leap Week Means Turn-About

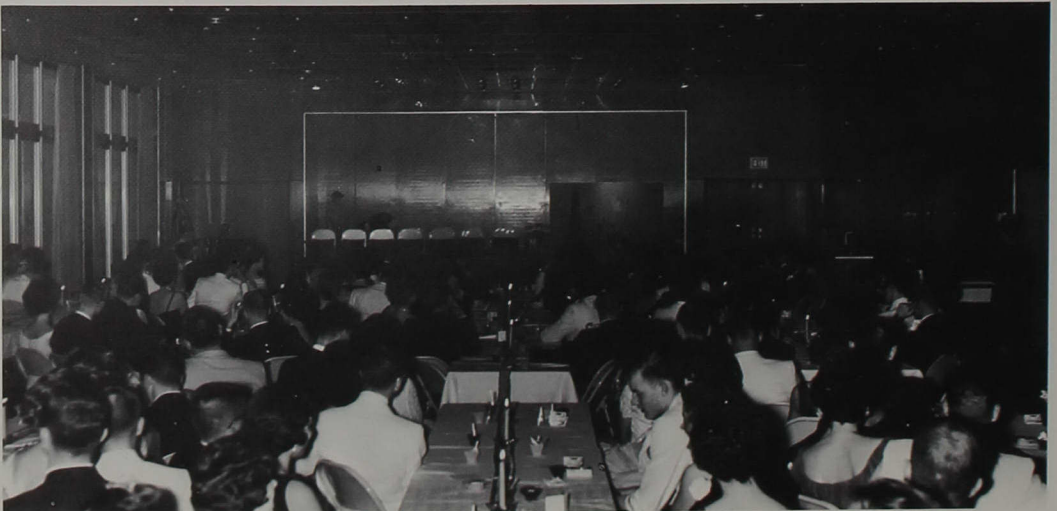

President Esch seats campus queen, Sandra Dale, at the banquet.

During Sadie Hawkins or turn-about week the fellows have a chance to live dangerously for seven days; in other words, the girls are requested to ask and pay for dates. Chances to join in the fun were provided this year by an Artist Series program, a square dance, a school basketball game, a "dog-patch supper," and Goose Tatem and the Harlem Stars vs. the New York Rens.

Sadie Hawkins week culminated in the beautiful Sweetheart Banquet and dance held in the ISTA building. "Gai Paree," the theme of the banquet, was carried out in violet and lavender decorations and in entertainment by Dave Brittenham, master of ceremonies; Joyce Brittenham, soprano; the Three-Sophs-More-Than-Four, a vocal group; and Robbie Robinson, cartoonist for the Indianapolis News.

The evening ended with the Sweetheart Dance, sponsored by the Lambda Chi Chapter of Phalanx.

A large crowd enjoyed the Sweetheart Banquet in an atmosphere of "Gai Paree."

John Bushee brought his umbrella to the "dogpatch supper" just in case there should be a water feud among "them there hillbillies."

Poor Phil Turley was caught and dragged before Marryin' Sam.

Al Whalen and Dale Rigg entertain in real Hillbilly fashion at the square dance.

Providing Service

Hawaii with its beautiful scenery and dancing girls was the scene of the "South Sea Follies."

The purpose of Geneva Stunts is to raise proceeds to send delegates to Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, for a unique summer conference featuring outstanding speakers from various parts of the United States. Problems concerning politics, religion, philosophy, and other issues are discussed. It is hoped that the students who have enjoyed the experience will share some of their enthusiasm and information upon their return to the campus.

The stunts are done on a volunteer basis and are written, directed, and performed by the students on their own time.

Through Enjoyment

Dave Rathbun, the picture of innocence, says, "I Was Framed."

The auctions sponsored by the SCA committee on World University Service are among the more unusual events at Indiana Central. The proceeds are used by the committee to sponsor educational speakers and to aid foreign colleges and universities.

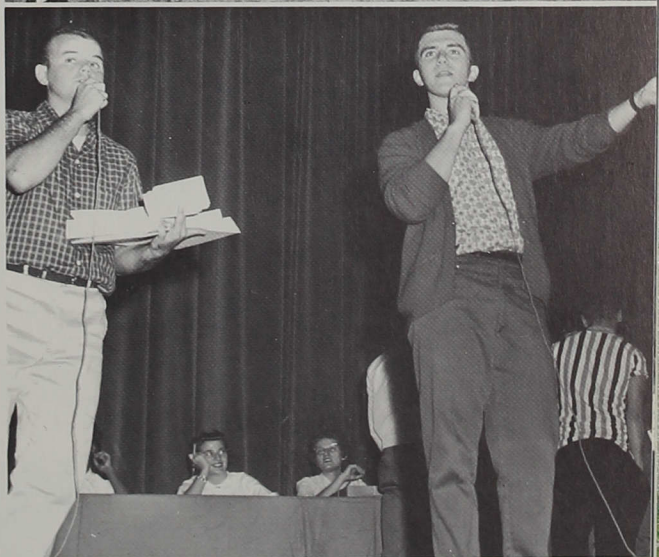

Some items sold were: cookies, cakes, and candy; a date with cheerleader Joe Hudson; a kiss from homecoming queen Judy Thompson; and a shoeshine by President Esch.

Charlie Gerdt and Larry Thompson do their best to raise that price.

Each class nominates one girl to run for Crossroads Queen. The one cent votes collected during the campaign benefit the Crossroads Rehabilitation Center.

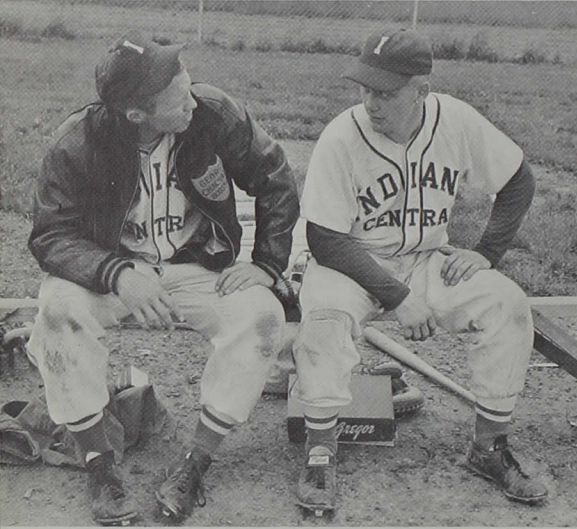

Sandra Osborne, the 1960 Crossroads Queen, was crowned at the basketball game starring the wheelchair team from Crossroads and the faculty of Indiana Central. Since then she has served on the Crossroads college council, whose purpose is to try to interest school girls in helping at the Center.

Crossroads Queen Sandra Osborne, and candidates Beverly Simons, Wilma Wheatcraft, and Janet Shafer welcome children from the Crossroads Rehabilitation Center.

Baseball Team Hampered

Indiana Central's baseball team, after losing many key players from the past season, could not put together a winning combination. They finished with a 7-13 record, but the weather was damaging too, since they were rained out of several games. The team finished in 5th place in conference standings with a 3-5 record, but they did not have the chance to play Manchester, and this could have meant a much higher conference standing. Senior Don Poole led the team in batting and play-making, but most of the team was composed of underclassmen who showed much potential.

Golf Team Is Undefeated

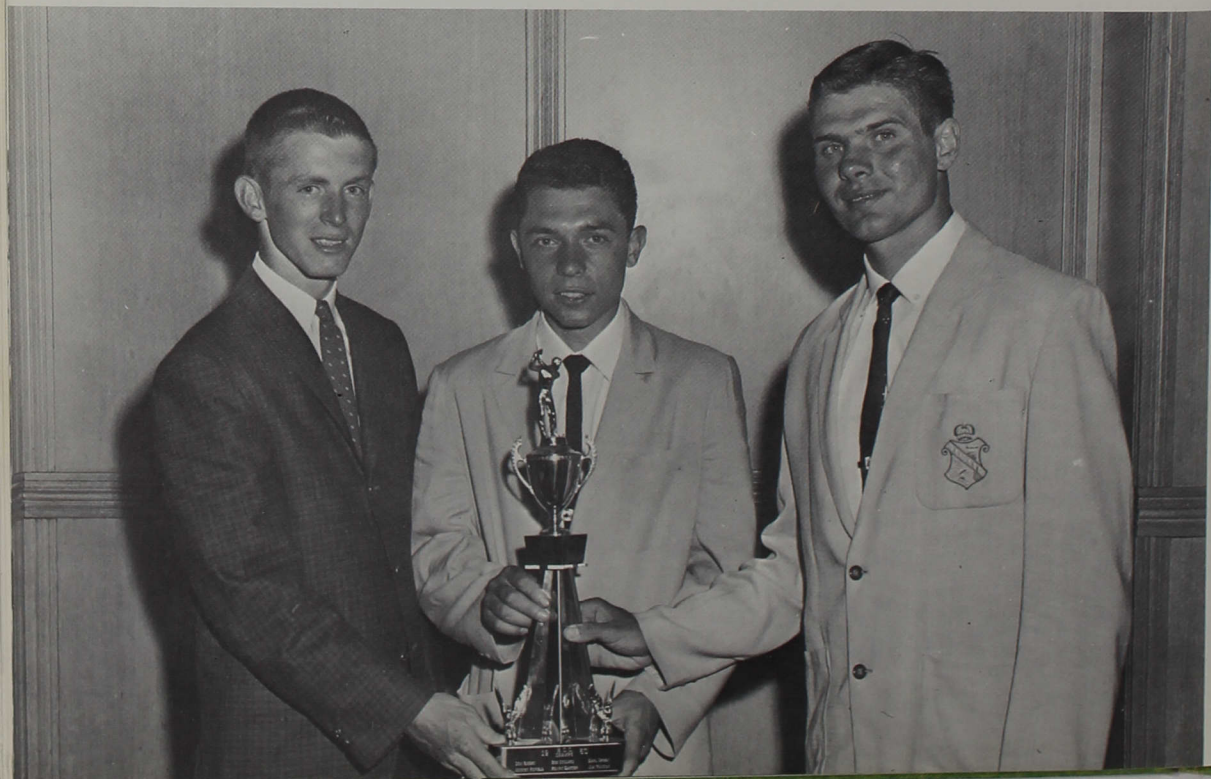

Central's golf team turned in an impressive record this season. The Greyhounds' 8 won, no loss, and one tie record is the best ever posted by an Indiana Central golf team. The only blemish on the record was a tie in the match with Hanover, and this tie was avenged when Central won the Hoosier College Conference Golf Championship.

May Festival

On May festival day the entire campus puts its best foot forward to welcome their mothers to Indiana Central College. This year they were greeted with a tea at Nelson House while accompanying fathers attended a coffee hour. Other activities of the day included: a smorgasbord in the college dining room, open house at the dormitories, and the big event of the evening, the festival program.

The "Olympia Review" began with the entrance of last year's queen, Carolyn White Howard, and her court who were then seated on the stage before the backdrop, a symbol of the Olympics. Acts by the students represented ten countries of the world: Japan, Spain, Finland, Australia, Italy, Russia, Holland, Hawaii, Switzerland, and the United States. In the climactic moment of the evening the new queen, Sandra Dale, was crowned. The queen and her court, made up of Brenda Brane, Phyllis Wheeler, Elnora Holland, and Linda Kirkham, were serenaded by the Centralaires to end quietly a happy and exciting evening.

As co-editors of the 1961 Oracle we sincerely hope that you have enjoyed viewing "Central Through the Seasons." We would like to thank the students and faculty for their cooperation in making this book possible.

An expression of our appreciation goes to the American Yearbook Company and their representative, Bob Cavanagh, Leonard E. Pearson, our sponsor, Miss Cullom of the Dean and Registrar's office, Dave Brady for the cover photograph, and our advertisers. Special thanks to a group with whose help the 1961 ORACLE became a reality.
