Brown County Day...

a tradition of its own

Brown County Day has been a tradition at U of I for many years. The event for some began on Tuesday night at the campground.

As Wednesday morning began with taking the tents down, Ted Polk and his crew were arriving. Many faculty, staff and students participated in the day's events including: the tug-of-war, the balloon stomp, the greased pumpkin pass, the three-legged race and the wheelbarrow race.

"Overall Brown County Day was a nice day compared to the past two years when the weather has been inclement.

This year Brown County day was a big success with many people present. We are always glad to have the day," said Chuck Porter, junior.

It's study time... NOT

Not every hour of the day at U of I is filled with studying. Students find many ways to fill the hours between classes and studying. Being in Indianapolis provides many opportunities for students if they are able to venture off campus. Some students stay on campus and create their own fun.

U of I has many events for students to take part in. These include Brown County Day, homecoming activities, special meals, Polar Bear Run, Cyclerama, and Mardi Gras. Also students create their own fun by playing games in the lobbies, socializing, and cutting loose.

All of these different activities come together to create a unique life at U of I.

Major gift launches Fine Arts Center

Christel DeHaan gives $3.5 million

Christel DeHaan

An $8 million fine arts building will be funded in part by U of I trustee Christel DeHaan and will be the first thrust of an aggressive renovation plan to enhance the physical appearance of the campus.

President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., announced news of the $3.5 million naming gift to alumni, students, faculty and staff at the annual Honors and Recognition Banquet. DeHaan, president/CEO of Resort Condominiums International, Inc., was introduced at the dinner and spoke about the "joy and responsibility" of charitable giving. A former U of I student and a trustee for over a year, she emphasized that charitable giving brings "far more to the giver" than to the recipient.

She received a standing ovation from the audience of fellow trustees, alumni, students, faculty and staff.

The new building will feature a performance hall that will seat 450-500 people, and will be the "newest, most up-to-date, performance facility in the city and of a size not currently available in Indianapolis," said Lantz. Additionally, the center will house classrooms, offices and studios for the music and art departments and enable the university to enhance its cultural offerings in music, art and poetry.

Music department chair Dr. Jo Ann Domb noted that the proposed performance hall will be the "only medium-sized hall in the city acoustically appropriate for chamber music." Dr. Ron Rarick, art department chair, expressed his pleasure at the prospect of having the "space and lighting to do some of the things we've wanted to do." The building will be from 40,000 to 50,000 square feet in size.

"We are elated and extremely grateful to Christel DeHaan for her generosity to the university," said Lantz. "Through her exemplary corporate leadership, her strong interest in international affairs, education and the arts and this gift, she is making extraordinary contributions not only to U of I students but also to all citizens of Indianapolis and surrounding communities."

Individuals and corporations will complement the naming gift to provide total funding for the project, said Lantz. This gift is one of the largest ever received by the university for a single project.

The announcement of the new Christel DeHaan Fine Arts Center signals the first step in the campus-wide development project.

The ceremonial ground breaking was May 12, in conjunction with the Donor Recognition Dinner symbolizing the actual ground breaking that would take place during the summer of '92.

Students let loose during Homecoming

Monday, Sept. 30, 1991, kicked off the week of festivities for the football homecoming with the Queen's Dinner. Queen candidates in attendance were Kathleen Tabert, Monica Stoots, Sandy Herre and Jenny Stamm. Kathleen Tabert was crowned queen.

The fun continued Monday night with a lip sync contest in Schwitzer. The contest included four entries. First place was MC/FCA: J.D. Hamilton, Dan Richwine, Nathan Winegardner, Tyler Trueblood, Tom Rossmanith, and Mike (Kirby) Myers.

Tuesday, the spaghetti eating contest began the night. Andrew Stevens slurped his way to first place. The Chubby Bunny marshmallow eating contest was the last event that day. Kris Ebersold came in first.

Wednesday kept things going with the Male Beauty Contest. First place was Dan Richwine, a.k.a. Darling Danielle.

Thursday night, U of I students rocked to the tunes of Oliver Syndrome.

Friday, the Top Dog Rally boosted spirits for the game Saturday.

Saturday brought up the rear with the Tailgate Party, dorm decorating contest and the football game against Butler.

Time to hit... the books !

The saying "you have the time of your life in college" includes all of the hard work that is put in by students. With the wide range of degrees offered at U of I, many different types of class work must be done in class and out. For some students homework consists of doing problems with math and chemicals, while others work with paint and radio waves. Even the professors have their work to do, including class preparation and research. Many hours will be spent with "tons" of homework before graduation.

MOVING IN... Fun or Chaos?

The car is loaded with luggage and supplies, good-byes are said and the car pulls out for its journey to Indianapolis.

Moving into the dorms becomes a college tradition. Freshmen were greeted by Residence Hall Directors, Resident Assistants, and Greyhound Ambassadors who provided lemonade and cookies.

Exploring new frontiers was the theme for freshmen orientation and various activities and decorations carried out the theme.

Moving in is only one part of freshmen orientation. Other activities included the President's Dinner and many workshops about college life and academics. New students also have a chance to become acquainted with their surroundings and meet others.

As for the upper-classmen, move-in did not come until a couple of days after the freshmen.

Entertainment U of I Style...

U of I offers many different activities ranging from dances to plays.

Different dances are sponsored throughout the year. These dances are the Welcome Back Dance, Halloween Dance, Homecoming Dances, Christmas Formal, Valentine's Day Formal and the End of the Year Dance. Each is sponsored by a different organization on campus.

ISG hosted several activities during the year including: movies, Mardi Gras, Cyclerama, concerts, dances, Fun Flicks and If you laugh you lose.

Each year the theater department at U of I puts on several plays. This year they did Squabbles, The Three Sisters, Butterflies are Free, and The Grapes of Wrath. The Grapes of Wrath was the Indiana premiere.

Troy Gambrel killed in car accident

Freshman Troy Gambrel died instantly Saturday, March 14, in a car accident in Ohio which also injured sophomore Jeffrey Stein and two IU students.

"We are deeply saddened by the tragic death of one of our promising young students, and we share our sympathy with the families of Troy and Jeff and the IU students involved," said President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr.

Gambrel, a North Hall resident and a marketing major, had excelled in speech team competition, his novice year.

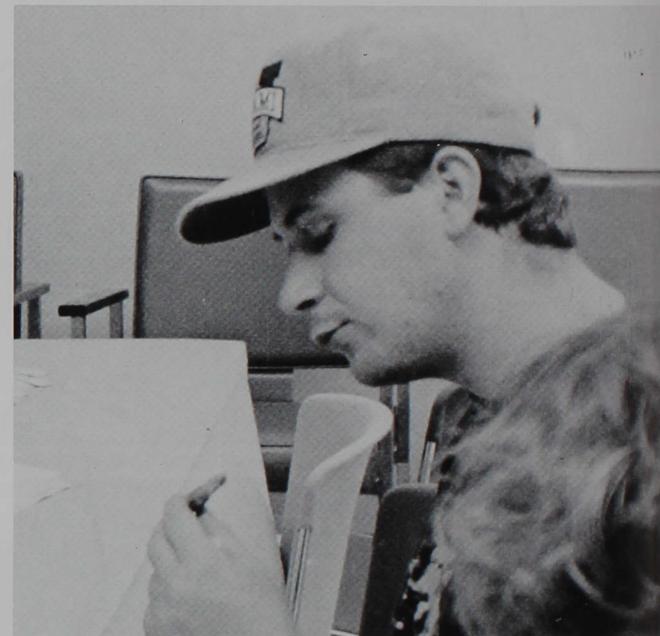

He was named posthumously the outstanding freshman forensic student and the freshman award was renamed in his honor, according to Professor Audrey Cunningham, speech team coach. The funeral was Wednesday, March 18, at the Plymouth Wesleyan Church in Plymouth.

Gambrel planned to compete in the national speech team competition in Minnesota Easter weekend. He had won numerous awards both semesters.

These two U of I students and two Indiana University students were on their way to Ohio State University for a speech meet, when the driver lost control of the car on the snowy road.

The car, traveling on I-70 east, ran off the right side of the road striking a tree and wire fence. Gambrel was killed instantly. Stein was taken to Miami

Valley Memorial Hospital in Dayton by ambulance. Stein underwent leg and hip surgery. The driver, Dennis Barton III, was flown by helicopter to the hospital. Jason Fruits was taken to the hospital and released.

Stein recovers

Jeff Stein, communications in business major, will return in the fall to U of I. The surgery that pinned his broken leg was considered successful. Stein recuperated at home for the remainder of second semester and summer.

Professor hit by car while crossing Hanna

Dr. Gerald Speth, Academic Services, returned Monday, October 28, after being hit by a car while crossing Hanna. Speth was on his way from Good Hall to Esch Hall for a class. He suffered a broken leg, abrasions and a bruised hand.

"Even though you think they will obey the law, wait until they stop before you go," advises Speth.

Joy Vermillion named '91-92 Esch Scholar

Senior Joy Vermillion was named the Esch Scholar for the 1991-92 academic school year.

The Esch scholarship is in honor of Dr. I. Lynd Esch and is awarded by President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., to the outstanding senior scholar each year.

"I was pretty thrilled because I had wanted this award since my freshman year," Vermillion said. "I just kept working for it."

Vermillion is also unique because 30 of her relatives have been graduated from U of I.

Bookstore undergoes major remodeling

Along with a new school year came many new changes to the campus. One of these changes was the new management and the major remodeling of the bookstore.

In April, Follett College Bookstores took over the management of the U of I bookstore. According to Ken Hottell, business manager, many universities in Indiana are turning over the management of their bookstores to Follett. Butler University's bookstore management switched the year before we did, and Anderson College switched in late June of 1991, according to Hottell.

Changing management has been very beneficial for the bookstore. Follett uses a computerized system to find available books which are housed in its warehouse in Chicago. More used books are available in this manner, which cuts the cost for books at the beginning of the semester.

"The savings to the students is astronomical," said Hottell. "We never had a computer link to help us locate used books. We only had what used books students turned in at the end of each semester."

Follett is capable of running the bookstore in an economical manner because the company already has trained professionals in marketing to do the jobs of managing and running bookstores.

The remodeling involves a modern concept of letting students choose their books from the shelves instead of standing in line and having an employee get the books for them.

"The bookstore was just too crowded in the past and it was difficult to have a pleasurable shopping experience," said Hottell. "Students can get through the aisles easily now to find what they want."

The buy-back procedure for books at the end of the semester follows a distinctive plan. If the books will be used again the following semester, then the student will receive half of the original price of the book until the bookstore reaches the level of stock which it needs for that particular book. If the books will no longer be used in classes, then the student will receive money for the book according to the national list of values.

Even with the major changes, other improvements are still planned for the bookstore. Management hopes to have more best-sellers, both fictional and nonfictional, in stock for students' enjoyment, according to Karl Snider, manager of the bookstore.

Plans also include creating more shelf space on the wall next to the greeting cards in order to make room for more text books.

Underwood leaves impact

H. Merrill Underwood was an earth-space science faculty member at U of I for 26 years. He earned his A.B. degree in history and science from U of I in 1940.

He became an adjunct member of the faculty in 1956 and retired in 1982. He taught science to junior high school students for 33 years also.

In addition to teaching, Underwood was an active member of Kiwanis International and University Heights United Methodist Church. One of his greatest contributions to U of I was his collection of rocks, minerals, and fossils which he donated on April 3, 1991.

The collection has an estimated value of over $30,000. Underwood acquired these specimens

on U of I

during his travels throughout the world.

His collection created the Underwood Geological Museum, located in Lilly Hall. He served as the curator until his death.

On Dec. 12, 1991, Underwood passed away leaving fifty percent of his estate to U of I, to be used in maintaining his museum, and to assure that it will remain as impressive as it is today.

Tyson loses round with courts

Mike Tyson was charged of raping an 18-year-old Miss Black America contestant at his hotel suite, July 19, 1991.

Tyson was found guilty by the Indianapolis courts. He was sentenced to three concurrent 10 year terms; however, he had 4 years suspended off each term. Tyson is being held in Plainfield, Ind., at a minimum security prison.

"It's a shame he's not a better role model for kids," said Anthony Wood, fellow boxer.

"His being in the position he was in, he should have carried himself better," said Kenneth Kidd, fellow boxer.

Young men go to the gym to punch bags, punch each other — and dream. As was the case for a young teen named Mike Tyson.

Only a decade later, while guys with big dreams worked out at the gyms, Tyson was sweating in the City-County Building two and a half miles away.

Back in the gym, boxers are disappointed in Tyson and his behavior.

Former Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev stepped down from his official rule in the Soviet Union on December 25, 1991. President Boris Yeltsin became the democratic leader of the new government. A new country, now called the Commonwealth of Independent States, was formed.

Dahmer pleaded guilty

Jeffrey Dahmer pleaded guilty but insane to 15 slayings in January of 1992.

Dahmer could have been sentenced to a mental institution, where, after a year of treatment, he could petition for release every six months.

However, he was found to be sane by the jury and was sentenced to 15 consecutive life terms for each murder.

Six months before his trial, he had admitted to killing and dismembering 17 young males, having sex with the corpses, and saving one victim's heart to eat.

His court trial was in his home state of Minnesota.

Officers found not guilty; brutality enrages country

In March of 1991 the entire nation watched the brutal beating of Rodney King by officers of the Los Angeles Police Department. A little more than one year later the world was surprised by the jurors decisions in finding the officers not guilty of police brutality. Residents of South Central L. A. "protested" by rioting and looting at will. The controversy led many to ask "Who says we're better off today than we were in the 60's?"

PUNT!

The 1991 U of I football team finished the season with a disappointing 2-8 record, losing its last seven games of the year. This marked the first time a Greyhound football team had lost seven consecutive games and the worst record since 1969 under head coach Bill Bless. The two victories came against Wayne State and St. Joseph's.

The Greyhounds finished a disappointing 10th in the Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference (MIFC).

Senior quarterback Mark Shepler finished his career ranked 10th on the all-time list of passing touchdowns (10), completions (101), and passing yardage (1,534).

Shepler's main target was junior wide receiver Josh Werling who caught 23 passes for 299 yards and two touchdowns. Senior tight end Larry Wiley had his best year as a Greyhound with 20 receptions for 236 yards.

Werling and sophomore Mike Gillock finished the season ranked 1 and 2 in the MIFC in punt returns. Gillock averaged 11.4 yards per return and Werling was runner-up with 8.5 yards.

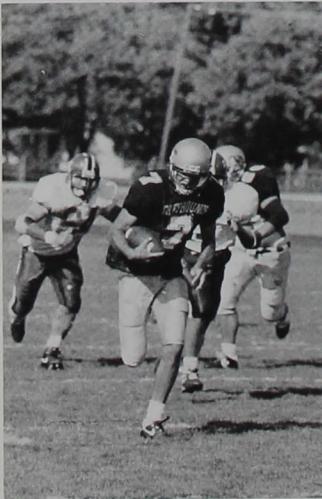

Senior defensive lineman Greg Matheis finished out his stellar career with eight quarterback sacks to finish sixth in the conference.

At the fall sports banquet senior David Nobbe was named most valuable offensive player while Matheis was named most valuable defensive player for the second consecutive year. Gillock was awarded the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award.

Boot It!

Under the direction of Coach Mike Moore, the 1991 soccer team earned an 8-9 overall record. The team had a season of ups and downs. It seemed that they would start doing well then an injury would come up. "Injuries hampered the season in a big way because we could never seem to all be healthy at one time so we could get back on our feet and put together a good winning streak," said senior co-captain Greg Smith. The soccer team has come along way since the sport came to the U of I. Smith commented, "The team is making great progress and will improve in the years to come." Coach Moore's team is one that will go all out to win matches. Coach Moore stated that the team was very sound with their skills, and he was "pleased with their performance." He went on to say that the team showed youthful enthusiasm and pride for the sport. The team hosted the first Greyhound Classic Tournament of which they were the champions. The team says good-bye to five seniors who provided leadership for the team. Team Awards this year include: Tom Horvath as Captain, Junior Augustine Osuma as Most Valuable Player, and Smith was presented the Mental Attitude Award. Senior Najmun Amin was named All-GLVC, while Junior Scott Hubbard was ranked second in the GLVC with goals against average. Seniors Tom Horvath and Smith received the GLVC All-Academic Award.

Achievement

The 1991 University of Indianapolis' men's and women's cross country teams might have enjoyed the winningest season ever coached by Tom Hathaway. The men led by senior Mike Oppy and junior Chris Johnson recorded a record. Junior Michelle Faulkner led the women to an outstanding 67-3 record. The women successfully defended their Little State Championship at Indiana University with a third place with Faulkner being named All-Little State. The women took home five titles with the other three finishing second. One of the seconds was the Great Lakes Valley Conference Meet. Faulkner, Sophomore Missy Mahnesmith and the only senior on the squad, Jenny Klehm, were named All-GLVC. Klehm was inducted into the Indianapolis Cross Country Hall of Fame, was named All-GLVC two years, was a member of two Little State Championships and ranks eighth on the all-time 5000 meter's list.

Mike Oppy also can be called one of the greatest cross country runners to ever attend here. Oppy was All-Little State two years, led U of I in finishes every meet except one, and was individual champion at Butler, St. Joseph's and Goshen meets. At Goshen, Oppy broke both the course and school record for the eight kilometer run. Oppy was inducted into the Hall of Fame as well. These were not the only standout runners, however. Johnson finished ninth in The NCAA Division II to advance to the national Division II meet. Johnson was also named Academic All-American. Oppy was named Most Valuable Runner with Mental Attitude going to sophomore Mark Logan, and Most Improved to sophomore Mike Zimmerman. Best Freshman went to Jon Uecker. The honors for the women were as follows: MVP Faulkner, Mental Attitude Mahnesmith, Most Improved Klehm and Best Freshman Beth Walters.

Coach Sue Willey's volleyball team finished the season with a 10 and 15 record. Captain Paige Balka, junior from LaPaz/LaVille, was named the most valuable player, finishing eighth in the GLVC in kills with 3.53 per game. Balka is a 1991 GLVC All-Academic Team selection and a candidate for GTE Academic All-American honors.

Penii Von Stetina, a sophomore from Mishawaka, was named the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award winner.

Hole in One!

Coach Ken Partridge's men's golf team continued the dominance in the GLVC by winning its fifth straight GLVC championship last fall. The greyhounds outdistanced runner-up Lewis by eight strokes to win the 54-hole tournament played on the Purdue South Course.

Senior Captain Kyle Brunnemer and junior Sam Thompson each chipped in 34's on the final nine holes to clinch the championship. Brunnemer finished second in the medalist race by two strokes with rounds of 72, 77, and 73 on the par-71 course.

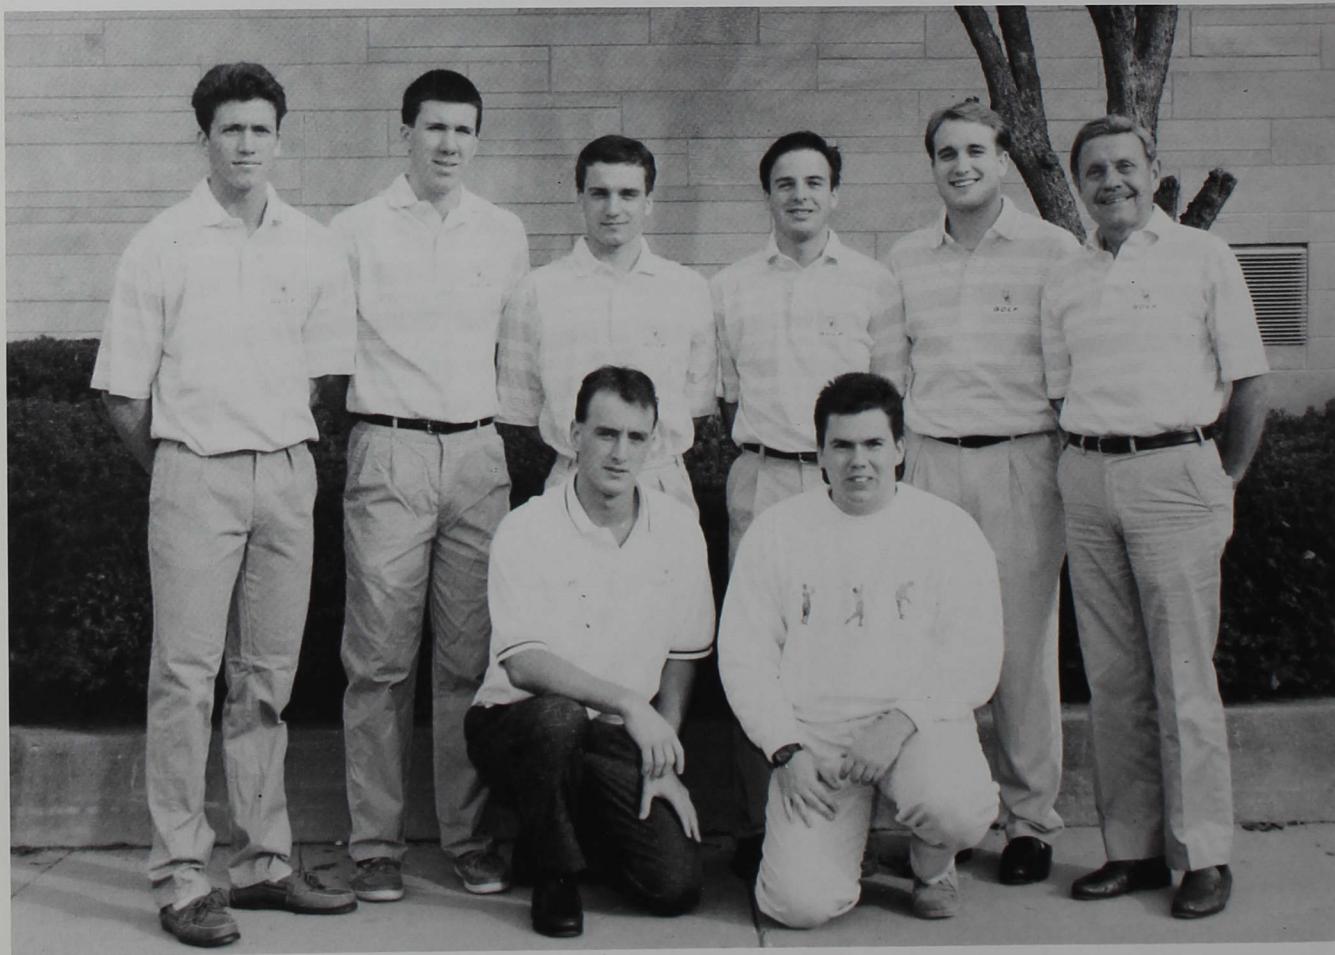

Thompson finished four shots behind Brunnemer with a 226 total. Freshmen sensations Chris Boeke and Barry Dennett played well in their first GLVC tournament and junior Scott Richardson rounded out the total team effort. Coach Partridge was named the GLVC "Coach of the Year" for the fifth straight time and the sixth overall during his successful run as the greyhound coach. Coach Partridge guided his 1991 championship team to an outstanding 87-9 record with five tournament championships.

The greyhounds were 30-1 against NCAA II opposition and 22-7 against NCAA I teams.

"Each conference championship is sweeter because we are establishing a new record and other teams are shooting at us," said Coach Partridge. "It was a great credit to all five of our players that we were able to shoot our season average (75.2) despite the cold, wind, and the pressure. It was also rewarding that three of our players (Thompson, Boeke, and Dennett) played so well in their first GLVC championship competition."

The men's golf team also continued to make history by being ranked third in the Golfweek Golf Coaches Association of America NCAA II ranking during the week of November 2, 1991. The third place ranking is the highest ever for any Indianapolis team since the university became affiliated with NCAA Division II. National powers Columbus College (Georgia) and Florida Southern are ranked ahead of the linksters.

Kyle Brunnemer led all district golfers in stroke average. A consistent performer throughout his four-years, he led the Greyhounds to four Great Lakes Valley Conference championships and led in the team's three appearances in the national playoffs. Consistently on the Dean's List, he was named to the NCAA Division II All America team as a member of the third team. An accounting major, he was also the Southside Exchange Club male student-athlete of the year for U of I and he received the inaugural Angus Nicoson "Something Extra" Award.

Fore!

Coach Bill Green's women's golf team finished the fall season with a 17-41-1 record which is very respectable considering that the opposition was 80 percent NCAA Division I schools. There is only one other women's golf team in the GLVC and there is no GLVC tournament. The lady linksters must play most of their tournaments against schools such as Michigan and Michigan State.

"The team was young, but we played well all year long and for our veterans the year's experience has paid off for them. They practiced hard all last summer and their golf games have improved," said Coach Green. "We improved every week and it was fun to win the Franklin Invitational."

Freshman sensation Michelle Swing led the lady linksters the entire season. Swing made an immediate impact for the lady greyhounds by leading the team with an 87.6 average in the first seven rounds of the season. Junior veteran Angie Baldini was close behind with an 87.9 average and shot an impressive final

Senior Shannon Black, junior Michelle Middleton, and sophomores Christi Cochard, Suzanne Howard, and Abby Kaufman all shot well at times to round-out this well-balanced team. The lady linksters shot well against non-NCAA Division I opposition by winning the five team Franklin Invitational and by defeating Franklin and Oakland City by 22 strokes.

Polar Bear Brrrr!

A record number of participants competed in the annual University sponsored Polar Bear Run & Walk February 8.

The clear, cold weather followed an over night dusting of snow and made the title of the event appropriate for the wheelchair competitors, 1443 runners and 655 walkers who completed the event.

Co-sponsored by Mr. D's Food Market and coordinated by Ken Long & Associates, the event included 149 University of Indianapolis faculty, staff and students who volunteered throughout the event. The five mile run and five kilometer walk took participants around campus and the neighborhood.

Streets around campus were dotted with snow, volunteers, runners and walkers as over 2000 competed in the Polar Bear Run & Walk. Top five walkers were Jerry Lambert, Donald Anderson, Max Walker, Chester Skeen and Duane Weddle, for men, and Lisa Sonntag, Sonnette Weddle, Judi Risner-Gardner, Dorothy Withem and Annella Smith, for women.

Two Points!

The men's basketball team crowned the finale of its season with a swift kick right square in the hoops of Northern Kentucky.

Sophomore Shannon Arthur scored 24 points to help Indianapolis win by a six point margin, 84-78.

This victory brought the Greyhounds to an overall season record of 9-19. In the Great Lakes Valley Conference play, they ended the season 4-14.

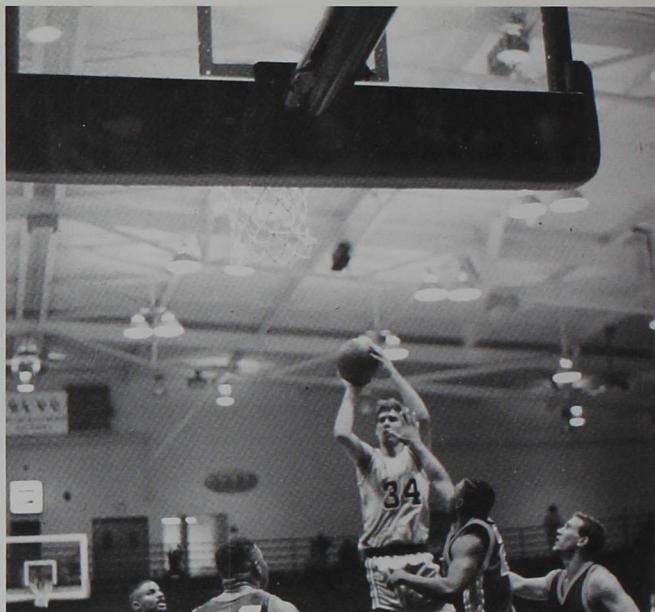

Arthur joined sophomore Mike DeHaven and junior Doug Stahly to lead the cagers with six rebounds each. Arthur dominated the team's scoring with 13.5 points per game. He also marked up 75 assists and 113 rebounds.

Stahly played more than anyone else on the team with 858 minutes and started in all 28 contests. He finished the season with a team-leading 44 locked shots.

Lone senior Matt Cabot was an honorable mention selection to the All-GLVC team. Cabot fell one bucket shy of the school record for the best field goal accuracy during the season, firing a .6127 from the field, hitting 136 of 222 attempts.

Announcing he would be leaving at the end of the season, Bill Green ended his five years with U of I with a 58-82 record.

Fast Break!

The Lady Greyhounds finished the season with an 18-10 record. The victories included two over NCAA Division II Nationals participants Northern Kentucky and NAIA Division I powerhouse Mount Mercy.

Among the losses were some close ones. Two encounters with GLVC Champions Saint Joseph's left them losing by two points and four points. The clash with Bellarmine was another two-point loss. U of I finished sixth in the 10-team conference with a 10-8 slate, its best league record in four years.

Not disappointed with his team's efforts, Coach Chuck Mallender said, "The team worked very hard, especially when we were out of the conference race as we were so focused and intense and the NKU game, the last one of the season, proves it; however, I believe we fell a little bit short of our potential."

Four Lady Greyhounds ended the season with double-figure averages in scoring. Indianapolis was led by GLVC second-team pick Lori Morgan and honorable mention selectee Courtney Sands.

Junior Morgan led the team in scoring with a 14.1 and tallied a season-high 25 point in the last game. Scoring in the double figures in 23 of the 28 games, she earned 20 or more points in three games and led the team in rebounding with an average of 7.3 caroms a contest.

Junior Sands finished second in team statistics in both scoring (12.1) and rebounding (7). Sands scored in the double figures 18 times, including four 20-point plus performances.

Sophomore Sam Fenneman scored 20 points or more in three of the first five games, ending with a team high six 20-point performances including a high of 24. She finished the year with an average of 11.7 points and 6.8 boards a game.

Junior Sandy Herre and freshman Melissa Graham shot 43 percent behind the three-point arc for 72 points. This shooting put Graham in the nation's top ten leaders.

Graham scored in the double figures in 20 games with a high of 20 and an average of 11.4 points per game.

Senior Kathy Miller finished fifth on the team in scoring with 9.4 and a high of 19, hitting double figures in 11 games.

Senior Leah Ann Adams was praised by Mallender as a defense specialist who led the team in free throw percentage with an average of .722.

Splish, Splash!

Many coaches and many teams set high academic and high athletic goals, but few are fortunate enough to achieve elite status. Coach Seemann Baugh and his 1991-92 swimming and diving team made it.

For the first time ever, the U of I lady swimmers and divers were selected to the NCAA All-American Team for both semesters. The women's team's GPA during the first semester placed them as the nation's fifth-smartest squad. The ladies earned their third induction for the second semester.

Senior Jennifer Grove led the way, earning a 4.0 GPA both semesters. Grove graduated magna cum laude, while captain Linda Jongkind and past letter winner Christine Kane were honored as cum laude members.

On the men's team, senior Brent Sneed was an academic stand out, graduating in three years with magna cum laude honors.

Sophomore Kristi Hamilton led the many sterling athletic accomplishments, qualifying for the NCAA-II National Meet in seven events, swimming in four and becoming an All-American in three.

Hamilton became the school's first three-time All-American swimmer, breaking U of I records in all three events at the National Meet. The two-time Greyhound MVP set new marks in the 200 breaststroke (2:28.77), 100 butterfly (59.30) and 200 butterfly (2:11.28).

"She has been a real dream to coach," said Baugh. "She is very intense and has that desire to do extra. She swam a great Nationals meet and capped a phenomenal season."

Hamilton also holds the school plateau for the 200 individual medley (2:11.52).

Sophomore Kathy Hulen established new milestones in the 100 (1:03.11) and 200 (2:19.69) backstrokes.

The 200 medley relay team (Hulen, senior Bridget Bailie, freshman Nicole Rives and Grove) set a new record at 1:56.79 as did the 400 medley relay team (Hulen, Bailey, Hamilton and Jongkind) at 4:11.35 and the 800 freestyle relay squad (Jongkind, Grove, Hamilton and Rives) in 8:02.57.

The ladies topped a 14-team field to win the U of I Invitational, finished second at the Little State Meet, fourth at the Mideast Classic Championships and 21st at the NCAA-II National Meet.

Sophomore Jenny Double received the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award at the university's Winter Athletic Banquet.

"The women achieved all of their academic goals and all of their athletic goals except for winning the championships (Mideast Classic)," said Baugh, "but still had an outstanding season."

Freshman Sean Dwyer led the men, as he contributed to five new school records while being voted the squad's MVP.

Dwyer established new plateaus in the 200 fly (1:58.63), 200 IM (1:58.53) and 400 IM (4:10.07).

The combination of Dwyer, Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award recipient Sneed, junior Andre Vera and junior captain John Dils swam the 800 free relay in a school-best 7:04.33.

Dwyer, freshman Doug DeJong, sophomore Kirk Wright and Dils established the new mark in the 400 medley relay at 3:33.96.

The team of DeJong, Vera, Wright and Dils swam the 200 free relay in a university-record 1:26.66, while freshman Keith Frederick, DeJong, Wright and Vera swam the 200 medley relay in a school record-breaking time of 1:40.26.

Vera, a Grand Rapids Junior College transfer, established the new record in the 200 free (1:45.25) while Wright set the mark in the 100 fly (53.39).

"This year's team was the most powerful men's team balance-wise," said Baugh. "It was also the most versatile."

The men won their seventh consecutive Mideast Classic Championship in the seventh year of its existence. The men finished third in the U of I Invitational, second in the Evansville Invitational and second in the Little State Meet.

Both teams finished fourth out of the 86 colleges entered in the College Swim Coaches' Forum Meet in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, over Christmas break. Over 3,200 athletes competed at that event.

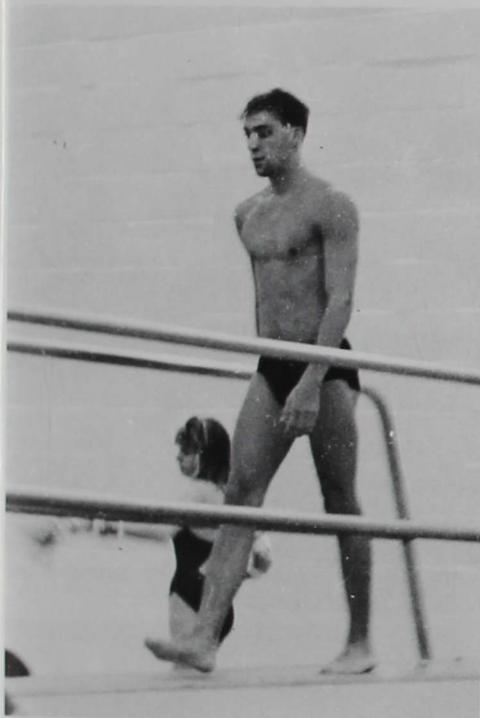

The swimmers also hosted 19 past letter winners for the fourth annual Alumni Meet, including former Greyhounds from Sweden, Washington, Texas and Florida.

The ladies notched a 32-10 overall season record, while the men swam to 39-9.

Ka-Boom!

The 1991-92 U of I wrestling team was a bomb waiting to explode. The team boasted a 25-man roster with eight returning wrestlers, including five returning lettermen, and 17 newcomers. A 1987 U of I graduate and two-time All American Darren Arbury returned to assist coach Terry Wetherald and assistant coach Amos Rinks. The road to victory was set. First stop was the Midwest Classic. The grapplers placed ninth out of 19 teams.

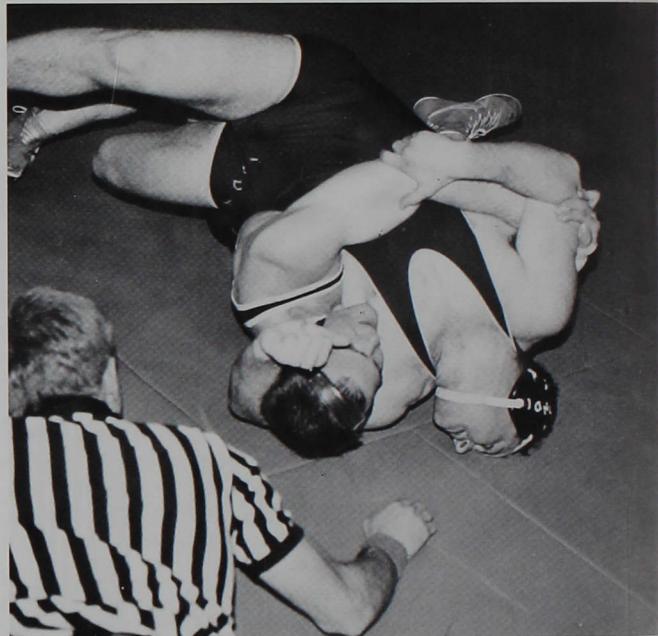

The team continued its journey to Findlay, Ohio, where they captured fifth out of 15 teams at the Findlay Invitational. Gaining confidence and experience, the team was prepared for the Elmhurst Invitational where the grapplers claimed the tournament's team title.

Although the team suffered from injuries from previous matches, the grapplers were able to pull together and place fourth at the West Liberty Invitational in West Virginia. From there, the team traveled to Illinois where they placed fifth out of 26 teams.

At the Greyhound Classic, the wrestlers placed first out of eight teams and claimed U of I's third consecutive Greyhound Classic title.

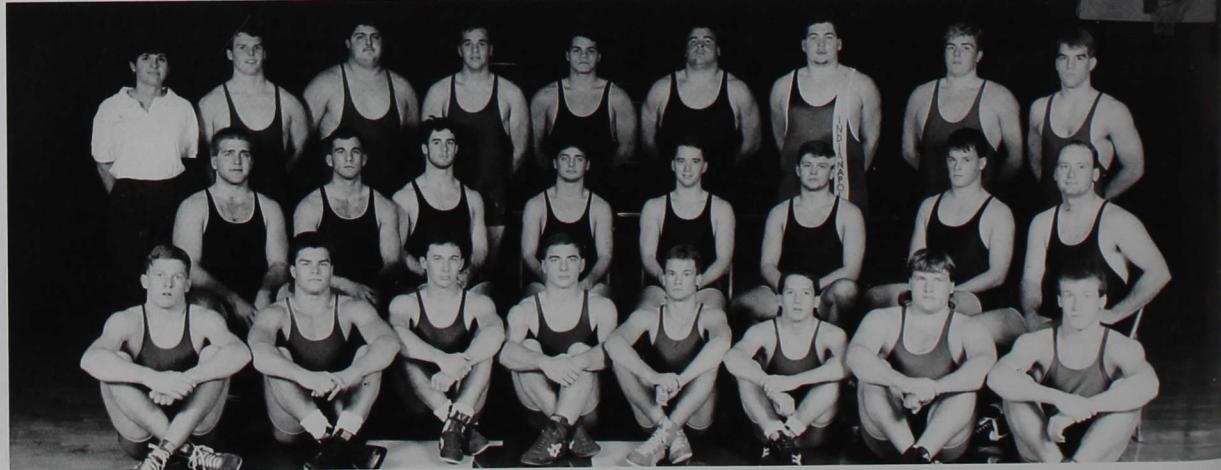

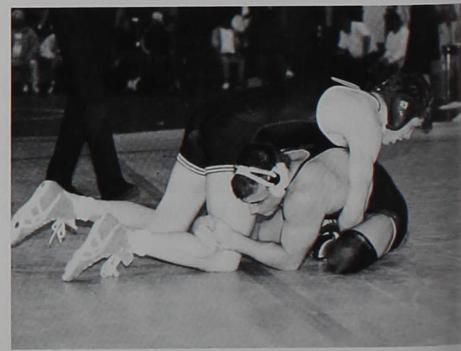

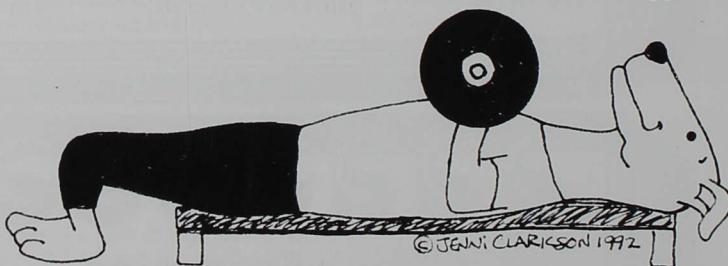

The journey came to a premature halt when a scheduling mix-up kept the wrestlers from competing in regionals.

Play Ball!

Junior pitcher/outfielder Tricia Neely earned Great Lakes Valley Conference Player of the Year honor for the second time in her three-year career, after leading the Lady Greyhound softball team to a 21-16 record and third place finish in the conference tournament. The multi-talented Neely led the GLVC in strikeouts per game (4.50); she was eighth in victories (12-7 record) and ninth in earned run average (1.86).

A highlight for Neely and Coach Sue Willey's Lady Greyhounds was doubleheader sweeps of city rivals Butler and IUPUI for Indy's first city championship since 1988. Neely hurled a no-hitter when Indy blanked Butler, 2-0, before winning the nightcap, 10-1. Against nationally-ranked IUPUI, the Lady Greyhounds won by 3-2 and 10-4 scores.

No slouch at the plate this season, Neely batted an impressive .308 with a team-high 16 RBI. A Hobart, Indiana, native, she led the team in runs scored (25) and was second on the Lady Greyhounds in hits (33) and doubles (7).

The youthful Lady Greyhounds should have even more success in the near future, as only two seniors will be lost from this talented team. Unfortunately, the two seniors were four-year starters Shannon Black and Kathy Miller. Freshman designated hitter Taunya Linton joined Neely on the All-GLVC Team after batting a team-best .378 at the plate. That effort put Linton fourth in the conference in hitting. Linton, the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award recipient, led Indianapolis with 34 hits on the season.

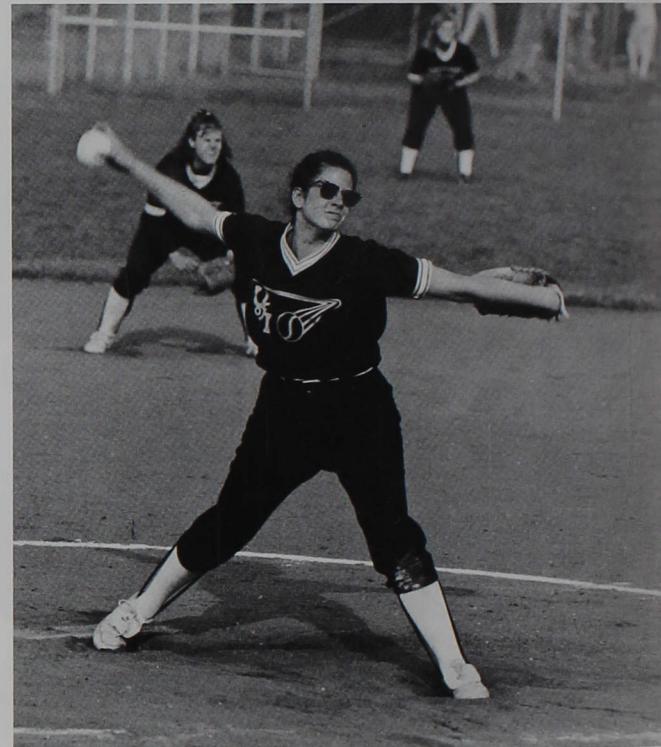

Junior Lynne Suroviak ranked among conference leaders in doubles, finishing fourth with 10 doubles in 37 games. Junior catcher Mary James, an honorable mention All-GLVC pick, served as the Lady Greyhounds' team captain. Junior first baseman Sandy Plyley led the team with a .983 fielding percentage, committing just four errors during the season. Freshman southpaw Mindy Haskett made an immediate impact on the mound during her rookie season, finishing third in the GLVC in strikeouts per game (3.93) and seventh in earned run average (1.60).

The softballers handed league champion Lewis its only defeat in the first round of the conference tournament, after splitting with Lewis during the regular season. Indy finished the conference round-robin season with a 10-6 record, earning the fourth seed in the tournament.

Diamond Roll

Coach Mark Peterson's baseballers experienced the rollercoaster syndrome of a youthful team, finishing an up-and-down season with an 18-24 record. A pair of sophomore transfers who were high school teammates led the Greyhounds with some impressive numbers.

Sophomore catcher Kevin Kavanaugh earned the team's Most Valuable Player award after an impressive first season. Kavanaugh batted a team-best .387 to pace the Indy attack. The big lefty also led the team in doubles with 16, equalling the school record set by Todd Hottell. The smooth swinger led the Greyhounds with 53 hits and 37 RBI in 41 games.

Kavanaugh's efforts earned him first-team All-Great Lakes Valley Conference honors and second-team NCAA II Great Lakes Region accolades.

Kavanaugh also did a solid job behind the plate, guiding his former prep batterymate Jeff Montfort to some impressive numbers. The lefty flame thrower struck out 67 batters in just under 54 innings of work to rank fifth in NCAA Division II with 11.2 strikeouts per nine innings. The lanky Montfort finished the campaign with a 3-3 record and three complete games.

Junior centerfielder Scott Gilliam fought off injuries to bat .353 with 42 hits. Gilliam led Indy with 24 steals in 27 attempts to key an imposing running game. Shortstop Sean Bledsoe batted .333 in his first season as a Greyhound, leading the team with four triples. The speedy Bledsoe had a team-high 37 runs, along with 47 hits and 23 stolen bases in 29 attempts. Third baseman Scott Miller came on strong to add to a solid junior trio. Miller batted .323 with 21 steals in 25 attempts.

On the mound, senior captain Brent Osswald led the team in victories (5), complete games (5) and innings pitched (67 2/3). Junior lefty Josh Werling and freshman Mike Powell keyed the bullpen with three saves apiece.

The Greyhound season was highlighted by doubleheader sweeps of conference rivals Ashland and Kentucky State on the road, and city rival IUPUI at home.

Deuce!

The 1992 men's tennis team etched its name in the record books several times this season. The first Greyhound men's tennis squad to win back-to-back Great Lakes Valley Conference championships, the team gave a resounding performance at the conference tournament, earning three league titles in four years! The Hounds recorded a perfect 7-0 record in conference dual matches, the first undefeated GLVC season ever for Indianapolis.

Sophomore MVP Perry Mann led the way for the record-setting Greyhounds, winning conference titles in singles and doubles to give him four in two years! He won the #2 singles crown for the second straight season, before teaming with junior Phil Knust to win the #2 doubles event. Mann won his last seven singles matches of the season to finish with a 12-6 record, giving him a 28-12 mark in his Greyhound career.

Junior captain John Venter played #1 singles and #1 doubles for the netters, earning the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award. Venter and junior partner Marc Hamm pulled out a pair of clutch three-set matches to help the Greyhounds in the GLVC tournament. Hamm had a masterful season, finishing with a 14-6 record and the conference championship at #3 singles.

Freshman Jamie Pheifer joined Mann and Hamm as singles champions with the title at #6 singles.

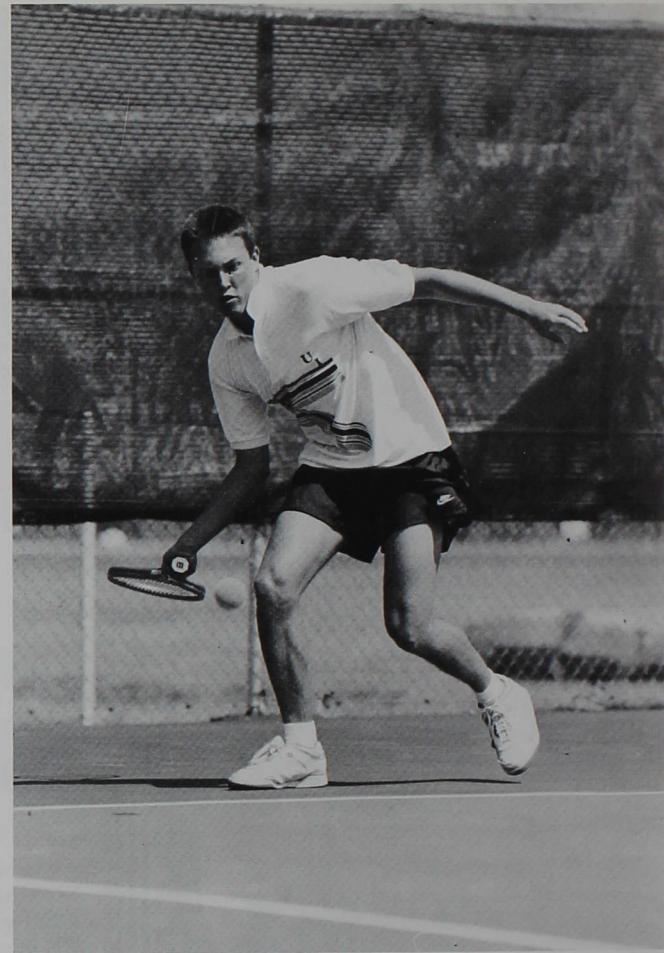

A key to the netters' league title was doubles play, with four Greyhounds earning All-GLVC honors by winning conference championships. Junior Phil Knust made it three straight years as a conference champion in doubles, earning All-GLVC honors for the third consecutive time. Freshmen twins Blaine and Shane Steimel won the #3 doubles conference title, finishing as the Greyhounds' winningest doubles team.

Coach Joe Gentry received GLVC Coach of the Year honors for the second straight season after leading the Greyhounds to back-to-back titles. Gentry credits assistants Paul Buck and Ismail Iyisoy for their outstanding work this season and previously as players. "They have been key people in turning our tennis program around and taking it to a very competitive level," he said.

The netters finished the season with a 9-8 dual match record against what Gentry calls "the toughest schedule ever played by a Greyhound men's tennis team." The Hounds also ended the season ranked eighth in the NCAA II Midwest Region.

Back-to-Back

The women's tennis team accomplished something that no other Great Lakes Valley Conference team has been able to do: win back-to-back conference championships.

Led by senior Amy Potts, the team tied St. Joseph's with 33 points to share the title. The team took four individual titles. Potts placed at #2 singles; junior Traci Griffith, at #3 singles. Number 4 singles went to sophomore Lisa Precourt, and freshman Cara Stockton won at #5 singles.

The Greyhounds also scored points with three runners-up. Potts and sophomore Kathy Redmond at #1 doubles, Griffith and Precourt at #2 doubles, and at #3 doubles, senior Chellie Gardner and junior Kristi McDaniel-Sears.

The team finished the season at 11-6. One of the losses included GLVC foe and co-champ St. Joe in the regular season. While four losses were against Division I squads.

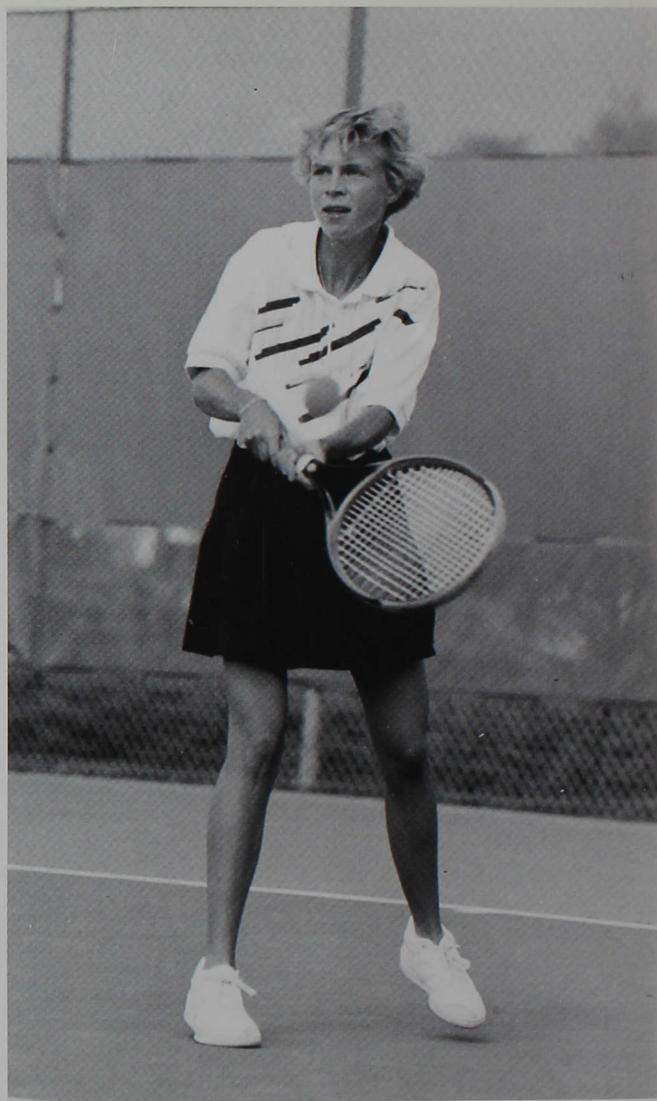

Coach of the Year honors went to Greyhound's coach Dawn Patel. "We were ready both physically and mentally," said Patel, "seeing how the players dug deep to play well during the tournament and played their best."

Potts finished out her four years with a 50-18 record in singles and 55-13 at the doubles position. She was a member of three GLVC championship teams; she was the first and only U of I player to advance to the NCAA tournament. Potts was individual champion at #1 singles for two consecutive years including an 18-0 her junior year. She was rewarded for all her hard work by receiving the Most Valuable Player Award, Mental Attitude, and Captain Awards.

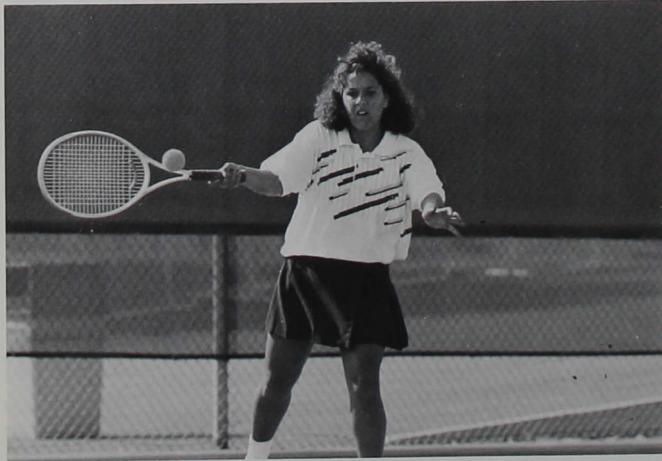

Gardner, the other senior, finished her career with 48-11 at doubles. On the season, Patel said, "We set high expectations and enjoyed going after them. That's the fun part, trying to achieve them."

The team should also be recognized for placing five women on the All-Academic team. Members of the team were Redmond, Potts, Griffith, Precourt, Gardner, and McDaniel-Sears.

World Class!

Senior All-American Brian Burkhardt won the national championship in the hammer throw at the NCAA II Meet in San Angelo, Texas, to lead Coach Jerry England's Greyhound men's track team to a seventh-place finish in the team standings, the best in school history. Burkhardt, the top seed in the event, won with a throw of 19'0", outdistancing the runner-up by over four feet. The 1992 Greyhound team captain had finished sixth at the Nationals in the event in both 1990 and 1991 to earn All-America honors.

He becomes the sixth Indianapolis track and field athlete to win an NCAA II national championship. England has now coached six national champions and 25 NCAA II All-Americans in his impressive 20-year tenure.

Five others joined Burkhardt in earning NCAA II All-America honors. Senior Tom Noe placed fourth in the high jump, senior Brett Burkhardt, team MVP and Brian's twin brother, finished fifth in the discus, junior Matt Gaston was fifth in the hammer, freshman Jon Uecker finished seventh in the 400 meters and junior James Compton was eighth in the 110 high hurdles.

Three tracksters competed at the Nationals: senior Sam Kozyra ran in the 200 meters, junior Chris Johnson competed in the steeple-chase and junior Matt Furthmiller threw the shot put.

The trackmen finished the outdoor season with an impressive 42-7 record, including the team championship at the U of I Invitational! A solid indoor season set the stage for what happened outdoors as Indianapolis successfully defended its Little State championship. Senior Tom Noe and freshman Jon Uecker competed at the NCAA II Indoor Meet, both finishing eighth.

Junior Bill Uecker received the team's Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award for the third consecutive season.

FAULKNER FIRST LADY OF TRACK

Junior Michelle Faulkner had an outstanding season, leading Coach Dawn Patel's Lady Greyhound tracksters to a solid 31-7 mark and a U of I Invitational championship. Faulkner earned team Most Valuable Player honors after becoming the first Indianapolis women's track competitor to qualify for the NCAA II Indoor Nationals. She won the 800 meter event at the Indiana Intercollegiates (beating every Division I university in the state) to earn a berth in the Nationals.

Faulkner, the 1991-92 Lady Greyhound Female Athlete of the Year, earned Little State Athlete of the Meet honors outdoors by winning the 800 and 1500 meter events. The two-time GLVC All-Academic selection set new school records in both events.

Senior distance runner Jenny Klehm received the team's Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award, as well as the overall Kelso Reid award. Klehm had an impressive season, highlighted by winning the 10 K at the Little State Meet.

Senior captain Leah Ann Adams closed out a memorable career in track with her 12th varsity letter. She lettered four times in cross country, basketball and track. She also excelled in the classroom, twice earning GLVC All-Academic honors in basketball and cross country.

U of I has many organizations. Each organization helps to meet the needs and desires of all its students. These organizations and clubs include: ISG (Indianapolis Student Government), RHA (Residence Hall Association), various honor societies, instrumental and vocal musical groups, Christian Life organizations, and theater.

ISG is a very active group on campus. It is responsible for planning different activities on campus for the students including dances, movies, comedians, and cyclerama.

RHA also has a very busy schedule. Members of RHA try to improve residence hall living, by taking surveys of student opinion and then acting on them.

Christian Life is a committee of the Indianapolis Student Government (ISG). It often participates with ISG in several activities.

One activity is the annual Mardi Gras. This year Christian Life brought in Fountain Square Fools from Cincinnati to perform both at convocation and at Mardi Gras.

Christian Life is an organization that is very busy. Not only do they have concerts, but they also have retreats, hayrides and lock-ins.

During flex, CLC sponsored a canoe trip on the first weekend of May.

Sheri Rohrer, Sierra Cutts and Criss Spicer plan a guessing game for the Christian Life lock-in.

Pass It On is the singing deputation team that is sponsored by the Christian Life Committee through the university. Members were Troy Gobbett, Katie Keith, Belinda Jones, Mary Beth Draper, Susanna Monroe, Mollie Cooper, and James Christy. At the beginning of the second semester three new members joined, Peter (P. J.) O'Malley, Paula (Chellie) Gardner and Andy Majewski.

Kenny Marshall, Bethany Willis, Sheri Rohrer, and Walter Braunsdorf enact the play Behind the Iron Curtain. Other members of the deputation team Spare Change included: Robert Rohrer, Amy M. Lee, Brandon Cosby and Debbie Snyder.

Nathan Winegardner, vice president of FCA, reads scripture to the rest of the FCA members at a meeting.

get students involved on campus

Alan List tries to hit Chris Carpenter's feet, while Amy M. Lee and Sheri Rohrer watch. This was one of the many games that the group played at the Christian Life Lock-in.

During Spring Break, Paul Horton helped paint the gymnasium in the St. Mark's Community Center in New Orleans. This was part of the Christian Life outreach via service project.

Yahweh's Yahoos was the new deputation team formed last year. The group is dedicated to clown ministry. Members included, clockwise from the center: Noot, Dandelion, Colorés, Rainbow, and Baggy.

Christian Life members spread 'em when arrested by the camera officer. Members are Alan List, Corine Konz, Sheri Rohrer, vice president of Christian Life Walter Braunsdorf, Robert Rohrer, Cristy (Cricket) Steele, Bethany Willis, Father Don Quinn, Rev. John A. Young, Mary Kathleen Elizabeth O'Haver, Chuck Porter, Chris Carpenter and Amy M. Lee. Christian Life is a committee of ISG. Anyone who has been involved in the many activities of Christian Life is a member.

The Grapes of Wrath

U of I theater performed the Indiana premiere of The Grapes of Wrath written by John Steinbeck and adapted for the stage by Frank Galati. The director was Dr. Richard A. Williams.

The Grapes of

Wrath is a play about the struggles of living during the depression, as portrayed by the Joad family.

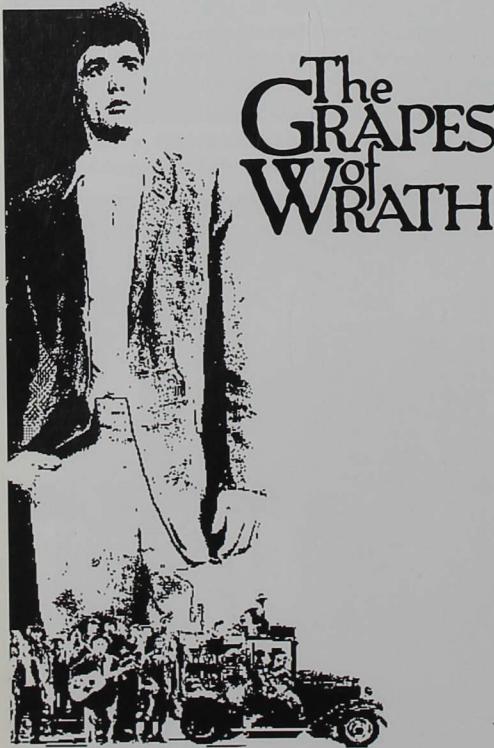

The play is set in the 1930's Dust Bowl era. The Joad family was one of the many families to suffer during this time as they ventured west with others looking for a better way of life, or work.

"It is time WE gave a damn. If we don't become a Voice for the Voiceless, then WE may soon be among them!" —Williams.

As the play ends, the Joad family finds they have no money, no jobs, and no where to go except to an old barn to stay dry and safe.

By Kenny Marshall and Cricket Steele

Tom Joad (Todd Jones, left) and Al Joad (Tym Swansen) discuss the prospects of moving west to better their lives in the play The Grapes of Wrath.

Squabbles

'Squabbles'

by Marshall Karp

The Cast & Crew

Actors in order of appearance: Jeff Knapp, Todd Jones, Rob Hartman, Kim Wagler, Debbie Snyder, and Brandon Cosby. The character Mrs. Fisher was played by Julie Brinson, Julie Dietrich, Dawn Geraghty, Angela Green, Alice Larson, Joy Shaffer and Bethany Willis.

The production staff included Rodney Coe, Todd Jones, Alice Larson, Betsy Rasor, Chuck Porter, George Colby, Julie Brinson, Bethany Willis, Rob Hartman, Julie Dietrich, Elizabeth Sturm, Leonard Richardson, Matt Sundell, Brandon Cosby and Dan Walker.

Set design by Todd Jones and lighting design by Dawn Geraghty.

Jeff Knapp, Todd Jones, Debbie Snyder and Rob Hartman surround Kim Wagler with the new baby in the play Squabbles

Squabbles, by Marshall Karp, was directed by Professor Jim Ream.

Beginning with Jerry Sloan (Jeff Knapp) and father-in-law Abe (Todd Jones) exchanging a few friendly words about Jerry's jingle writing, the next event is Jerry's falling all over himself after his wife Alice (Kim Wagler) tells him that she is pregnant. Later Jerry's mother, Mildred Sloan (Debbie Snyder), comes to live with them after her house burns down.

From there everything seems to go down hill (the in-laws are constantly fighting) until the end when the in-laws decide to get along and live in an apartment together.

Play forces us to look within...

The play Butterflies are Free, by Leonard Gershe, was directed by Dr. Richard A. Williams. Professor Jim Ream served as the Technical Director. The set was designed by Dan Walker and lights were done by Todd Jones.

This play is a comedy about Don Baker's, a young blind man, (Collin Moore) desire to get out from underneath his mother's over-protective wing and make it on his own. Along the way he meets up with the young Jill Tanner (Elizabeth Sturm), who seems to be fake from head to toe (fake eyelashes, hair...). As the play progresses the two get more and more involved and finally Jill meets mom, Mrs. Baker (Kristin Sizemore), and it isn't good. But Mom realizes her baby isn't such a baby anymore and gives him his chance in life.

BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE

The Cast & Crew

Actors in order of appearance were Collin Moore, Elizabeth Sturm, Kristin Sizemore and Daryl Ewick.

Production staff and crew were Julie Dietrich, Todd Jones, Jeff Knapp, Dee Hilligoss, Joy Shaffer, Alice Larson, Rodney Coe, Rob Hartman, Dawn Geraghty, Julie Brinson, Steve Kaser, Kenny Marshall, Suzanne Dumper, Kent Andrews, Melissa Carney, Bethany Willis, Laurie Hickey, Michelle Merl, Matthew Sundell, Ruth Leath, Mary Ellen Witek, Daniel Walker and Linda Flight.

Butterflies Are Free is a comedy about life and growing up, which is portrayed by the actors, from left, Kristin Sizemore, Daryl Ewick, and Collin Moore.

The Three Sisters by Anton Chekhov

The Three Sisters was guest directed by Ms. Gari Williams due to Dr. Richard Williams' sabbatical leave during the 1992 spring semester. Williams was helped with the play by consultants Alexey Altaev and Helena Davidova, visiting Russian professors. The set and lights were designed by Dan Walker.

This tale tells of three sisters who depend upon the officers of a nearby town to add some color and spark to their dreary lives. It deals with their longing to return to Moscow because of the memories it holds for each.

Although, the sisters never return to Moscow, the memories of their homeland remain in their hearts.

The Cast & Crew

Actors in order of appearance include: Bob Craig, Julie Brinson, Kristin Todd, Pia Mogollo'n, Elizabeth Sturm, David Neale, Steve Dabrowski, Jr., Todd Jones, Andrew Steadham, Billy Christman, Bobby Christman, Robert Hartman, Daryl Ewick, Dawn Geraghty, Heather McKinney, Rodney Coe, and Mary Ellen Witek.

The production staff and crew members included: Dan Walker, Alice Larson, Kristin Sizemore, Rodney Coe, Chuck Porter, Dawn Geraghty, Amber Harrison, Heather McKinney, Julie Dietrich, Mary Ellen Witek, Kenny Marshall, and Bethany Willis.

The U of I Theatre Staff includes: Dr. Richard Williams, Prof. Jim Ream, and Mrs. Shirley Charles (department secretary).

The Three Sisters by Anton Chekhov was the first play of the second semester and was a play simply about life. The three sisters were, from left, Elizabeth Sturm, Pia Mongollo'n, and Kristin Todd.

Work, Study & Play Hard

Terra Kovener, far left, glances over her shoulder to see if the Cheerleaders and Crimson Steppers she coaches are following her lead. Below, faculty, staff and students snake a dancing formation through the dining hall as the Drums of Africa entertain at the spring International Dinner. Left, Susette Soden, Communications/WICR secretary, smiles through another day of scheduling studios and students. Alexey Altaev discusses the significance of academic regalia with Dr. Mary Beth Bagg as they were visiting lecturers during a year of significant changes in their homeland, the former USSR.

New basketball coach named

Royce Waltman, the men's basketball coach at DePauw University, has been named to take charge of the men's basketball program at the University of Indianapolis. The announcement was made March 26, 1992, by President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr.

"We are excited and delighted to welcome Royce Waltman to the University of Indianapolis," said Lantz. "All that we know about him tells us that he will do an outstanding job and hit the ground running. His fine record at DePauw speaks for itself. He knows Indiana, he knows NCAA Division II basketball, he knows our competition, and he should contribute markedly and sharply to our program."

Waltman comes to Indianapolis after an outstanding five-year stint at DePauw, where he led the Tigers to an impressive 100-37 record and three NCAA Division III tournament appearances, including a trip to the national championship game in 1990.

Ready, set, eat, spaghetti?!

Flag Ceremony and International Dinner

Rhonda Rebello dressed in colorful attire for the International Dinner.

The members of the group "Drums of Africa" enjoy playing their instruments from their homeland for the crowd that gathered during the International Dinner.

Steve Weninger and others enjoy the International Dinner. The music was provided by the "Drums of Africa."

show university's appreciation for culture

Dr. Mary Beth Bagg discusses the flags and the countries they represent at the flag ceremony.

President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., poses with the international students that were honored at the flag ceremony in Krannert Memorial Library.

Seniors say Adieu at graduation

Graduates rush from the doors of Nicoson Hall to meet parents and faculty, and say good-bye to friends.

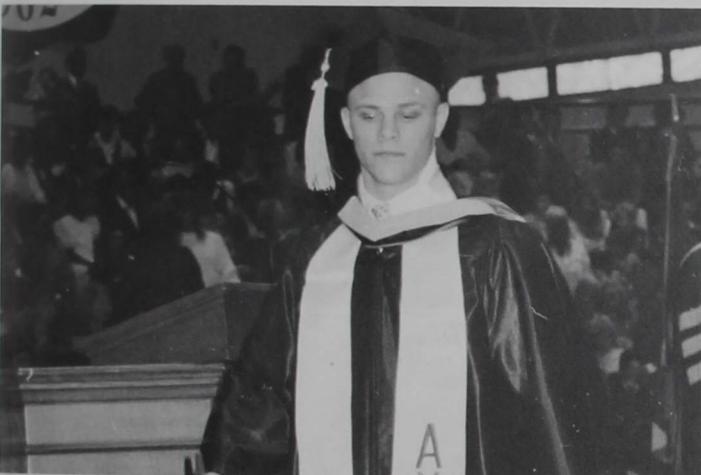

Phil Sopczak shows a smile of self-satisfaction after receiving his hard sought diploma.

Seniors David Nobbe and Linda Jongkind wait for their parents to catch up after the graduation ceremony.

TGIF...Thank Goodness I'm Finished Class of 1992

Jason Winegardner confidently takes his time walking away from undergraduate responsibilities to take on graduate school.

"I'm done? No, I can't be," thinks Carol Mroz. Editorial license lets the camera person read Carol's mind.

Faculty and staff retire

Retiring Director of Donor Relations, Records and Research Joseph Gray, center, talks about his days at U of I with student and former staffer, Jackie Johnson, left, and Jay Sibley, assistant director of the physical plant, at the formal reception for retirees. Gray came here after other "full careers" to join Institutional Advancement.

Kenny Deutsch, who is retiring after 33 years as superintendent of grounds and maintenance, talks to behavioral sciences faculty member Dick Wiehe about the good food and wonderful friends gathering to say thanks to the retiring faculty and staff.

after 144 years of service

Dean LeAlice Briggs, retiring Dean of the School of Nursing, chats with her husband and many, many friends and associates who visited with her at the Schwitzer Center reception where retirees were honored.

Dean LeAlice Briggs waits her turn to respond to parting remarks from Dr. Carl Stockton at the Trustee's Dinner where retiring faculty and administrative staff were honored. Dr. Briggs' many contributions were noted including her "outstanding ability as an administrator, the high enrollments in the nursing program, the excellent qualifications of the faculty members and the enviable record of student achievement over her 26 years of dedication to U of I."

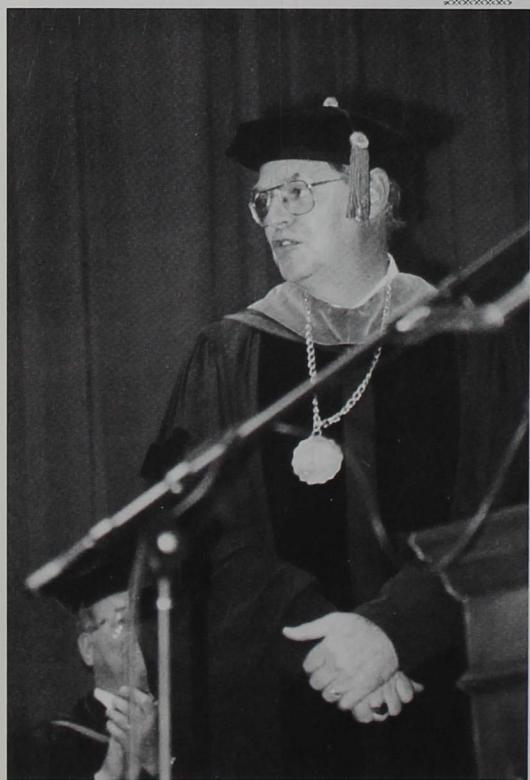

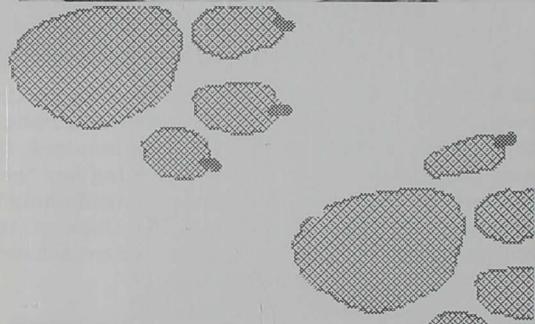

Dr. William Gommel chats with retiree Dr. Robert Brooker, left, and with Dr. G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., right, during the reception for retirees. Dr. Gommel, retiring after 27 years as professor of earth-space sciences and mathematics, has a career that has spanned the globe. A retired lieutenant colonel in the USAF Air Weather Service, he is also a member of the American Meteorological Society, Scottish Rite Cathedral, University Heights United Methodist Church, Indiana Academy of Sciences, Central Indiana Chapter of the Air Force Association, Director of Training/Colonel in the Air Wing of the Indiana Guard Reserve, the Indiana Astronomical Society and many other professional and service organizations. In these organizations, he has held numerous positions of leadership.

Retiring secretary of the School of Nursing in Lilly Hall, Pat Theil, smiles for the camera with one of last year's retirees, Dean Joan Persell. Mrs. Theil has contributed 24 years of service to U of I and is well known for her cheerful, cooperative and caring attitude.

Building for Tomorrow

Schwitzer was transformed so that those attending got a glimpse into the future in May with the "ceremonial" groundbreaking for the Christel DeHaan Fine Arts Center, planned for completion in late 1993.

Here, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, David Frick, left, and President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., join the donor of the $3.5 million gift, Christel DeHaan, to turn a shovel of soil, symbolic of beginning a new campus plan which includes several new buildings or building additions.

The ceremony was part of the annual donor dinner thanking contributors to the University.

DeHaan, a former student and a member of the University of Indianapolis Board of Trustees, is president and CEO of Resort Condominiums International, Inc. The new center will cost approximately $8 million and will include a performance hall, classrooms, offices and studios for the music and art departments.

Teacher of the Year Dr. Stephen Graham

GRAHAM

Dr. Stephen Graham, professor of history and political science, was named Teacher of the Year. Other nominees recognized and honored, in alphabetical order, included Dr. Mary Beth Bagg, Modern Languages, Prof. Sue Myers, Business, and Prof. Dennis Williams, Behavioral Sciences.

BAGG

Teacher of the Year is an honor initiated by students but determined by a careful review of all syllabi, teaching style and other considerations by a committee of peers and outstanding students.

Graham cited the opportunity to build good relationships with students, faculty and administrators as one reason he has made U of I his home since 1984.

A cash award is included with the honor.

Mozart's life, death remembered

The Fine Arts Society, located in Buxton Hall, and broadcasting over the University's radio station, WICR, 88.7 FM, chose to celebrate the bicentennial of Mozart's life with the creation of a Mozart bus to increase the public's awareness of the great composer and his music.

Activities involving the bus included trips by bus to the Symphony on the Prairie, the dedication pictured above, a Mozart Trivia contest on the air, an educational module involving elementary school children with The Indianapolis Star and special broadcasts of Mozart's music.

Students had the opportunity to work with the Fine Arts Society Director of Development Martha Vores on these projects. The bus project won an Indianapolis Ad Club Addy Award.

The Society also joined WICR student management, alumni, faculty and staff in celebrating the 30th anniversary of the radio station.

Raspberry addresses graduates

Journalist William J. Raspberry told graduating seniors "the time to worry about protecting your reputation is before you have one."

The 1958 U of I graduate, whose widely-read column on urban affairs is nationally syndicated through the Washington Post Writers Group, said that "building your reputation has more to do with ordinary behavior than with career planning."

Raspberry noted that such public figures as Michael Milken, Marion Barry and Bill Clinton did not anticipate the personal damage that would result from their earlier behaviors.

Having learned how to write obituaries while a fledgling Washington Post reporter, Raspberry invited his audience members to fashion their own obituaries in contemplating how they want to be remembered after reaching the mid-point of their lives.

Raspberry also challenged the graduates to measure the worth of their education in terms of contributions to life rather than in dollars.

"The pursuit of money for its own sake may make you rich, but it won't make you happy," he said.

Raspberry spoke to a packed audience in Nicoson Hall, a building not yet in existence during his own days on the then-Indiana Central campus. His sister, Hattie Raspberry Hall of Indianapolis, was in attendance, along with other members of her family. His eldest daughter, Patricia, a graduate student at the University of Michigan, surprised her father by showing up for the post-commencement dinner in Schweitzer Center.

Raspberry is also a member of the University Board of Trustees.

David R. Frick, chairman of the Board of Trustees, assisted President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., in hooding three recipients of honorary degrees: local attorney and civic leader John M. Kitchen, president of John M. Kitchen Law Offices; philanthropist Dudley V. Sutphin, former president of the American Paper Stock Co. and the Beveridge Paper Co.; and Dr. John C. Kuan, statesman and social reformer with the government of The Republic of China and chairman of The Democracy Foundation (ROC).

The Oracle staff met every day over flex to meet or beat the deadlines. The entire book was finished by June 5, 1992. Meeting this deadline meant that the yearbook is back to the students earlier in the fall.

Our job would have been a lot harder without the help of many students, administration, faculty and staff.

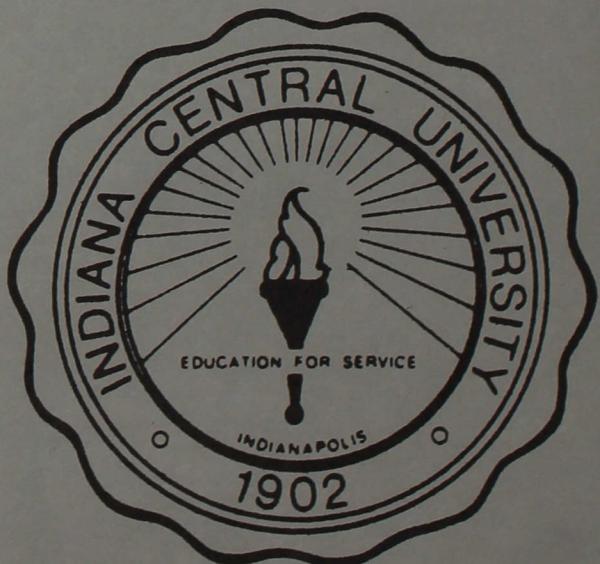

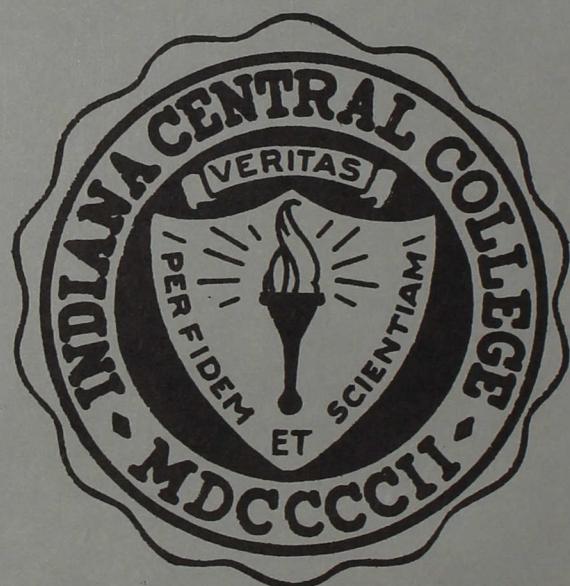

We, the Co-Editors, would like to thank the following contributors: Vice President Lynn Youngblood, Shirley Spangler, Lana Osterman, Miriam Narmore, Rev. John Young, Evelyn Deeter, Roberta Thompson, Barb Russell, Joy Roe, Mark Weigand, Dr. Fred Hill, Dr. Phillip Young, Chris Keith, Dr. Charlotte Templin, Marsha White, Margaret Garrison, Elaine Ancelet, Bill Bright, Joe Gentry, Doris Fowler, all of the Coaches, Peter Noot, Todd Beadle, Kenja Kendrick, J.D. Hamilton, Sarah Myers, Tracy Dearduff, John Futrell, Jim Ream, Perryn Brown, Karen Gingerich, Greg Smith, Lisa McNutt, Steve Parsell, Mike Mackey, Laura Lee, Perry Mann, Matt Eviston, Mary Beth Draper, Zach Bolinger, Sara Bastin, Rauf Khalid and Jessica Sanders.

The 1991-92 Oracle yearbook of the University of Indianapolis was printed by the Printing and Publishing Division of JOSTENS in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The local representative was Richard S. Maurer.

The cover is a mission (leather-like) texture with silver hot stamp lettering on an embossed surface that is wrapped around a 120 point Davey Red Label spoon-woven cover board. Type faces used in headlines are Rapheal, Bookman and Helvetica. Body copy and captions are in 10 and 12 point Bookman.

We would like to thank Mrs. Terri Johnson for all of her help. When we needed help, she was there. Mrs. Johnson was in the Mac Lab giving above and beyond what was expected.

The Oracle is a member of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association.
