CAREERS IN AGING WEEK - ARTS & AGING CONTEST
RULES AND INFORMATION

Careers in Aging Week (CIAW) is an annual event intended to bring greater awareness and visibility to the wide-ranging career opportunities in aging and aging research. Universities and colleges across the world participate by sponsoring events at their schools or in their communities.

Each year campuses organize events to fit the needs and interests of their academic community, as well as the aging community around them. Examples of events include informal gatherings, panel discussions, film screenings, poster sessions, and career fairs.

The University of Indianapolis Center for Aging & Community will sponsor various events on campus the week of April 5-11, 2015. To celebrate Careers in Aging Week, CAC is sponsoring an Arts & Aging contest, which provides opportunity for creative expression and a $100 cash prize to the winning submission.

- This contest is open to all UIndy students.
- Students may submit one piece of work in the form of art, photography, music, or writing on a subject related to positive aspects or issues of aging.
- Works will be judged on originality, creativity and strength of positive message about aging.
- Works will be returned before the end of the semester upon request.
- Author’s name will not appear on the entry. An entry form will be attached to the work.
- Entries must be received at the University of Indianapolis Center for Aging & Community Aging Studies Program no later than March 27, 2015.
- Winner will be notified by mail, phone message, or e-mail on or before April 3, 2015.
- The winner will be awarded a $100 prize in the form of a check via postal mail and recognized via campus communication outlets (Intercom, student e-newsletter, recognition at the Careers in Aging Week display in Schwitzer Center).
